ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Alhamdulillaaahi robbi’l’aaalamiin. Praise be to Allah SWT, the Almighty, the Merciful, the Most Beneficent and the Owner of the Universe who has blessed me with so many beautiful things in my life.

With regards to this, I would like to take this opportunity to express my deepest gratitude to:

1. my first supervisor, Joko Priyana Ph.D.. Thank you for the guidance, support, suggestions, and helpful feedback during the process of writing this thesis.

2. my second supervisor, B. Yuniar Diyanti M.Hum.. Thank you for the guidance, support, suggestions, and helpful feedback during the process of writing this thesis.

3. my academic consultant, Tri Wahyuni Floriasti M.Hum. and all lecturers of English Education Department of Yogyakarta State University. I would like to thank them for the knowledge, guidance, and experiences that they have shared with me.

4. my content expert, Ari Purnawan, M.Pd. M.A. and comic illustration comic, R. Kuncoro Wulan Dewojati, M.Sn. Thanks a lot for the comments and suggestions given.

5. the English teacher of SMA N 1 Sleman, Mrs. Nanik S.Pd. for her guidance, time and help during the research.

6. my beloved parents (Drs. Ade Misriyono and Murniningsih S.Pd), my beloved brother (Ibnu Widigdo S.T.) and my special counselor (Puguh Arya Prabowo S.Pd.). I really thank them for their prayers, guidance, help, support, and everything they given to me.

7. my best friend, Tatik, Janah, Ical, PBI B UNY 2010, EFC class 2010, and SMA N 1 Sleman. Thanks for the support and help.

8. Lena and Oscar. Thank you for your willingness to be the models in the audio recording.

9. Those who cannot be mentioned one by one in favor of supporting the writer to finish this thesis.

I realize that my thesis is far from being perfect. Therefore, I welcome all comments and suggestions for the improvement of this thesis are greatly appreciated.

Abstract

The objectives of this study are: 1) to identify the target needs, 2) to identify the learning needs, and 3) to develop the appropriate comic strips speaking materials for the grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman.

This research belongs to Research and Development (R&D) study. The subjects of this research were 32 students of the grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman. The procedures in conducting this study were conducting needs analysis, writing the course grid, writing the first draft, getting the experts’ judgment, and writing the final draft. The data were collected by using questionnaire and interview. The results of the questionnaires were analyzed quantitatively, while the results of the interviews were analyzed qualitatively.

This research developed three units speaking learning materials. Based on the research findings, the appropriate comic strips speaking materials for the tenth grade students of SMA N 1 Sleman consist of Warming Up, Observing, Questioning, Collecting Data, Analyzing Data, Communicating, Creating, Homework, Evaluation, Reflection, Summary, and Fun Space tasks. Unit one consists of 19 tasks, unit two consists of 22 tasks, and unit three consists of 19 tasks. The tasks are in the form of comic strips and focusing on speaking skills. The activities covered some activities such as matching, fill in the blank, and arranging paragraph. The theme and the characters of the comic mainly represent daily life. The stories used in the comic strips are mainly Indonesian Folklores. The comic strips were made by using online program that can be accessed at www.bitstrips.com. Based on the experts’ judgment, the content, the language, presentation, layout, and comic strips illustration are appropriate. The mean score of all aspects was 3.46 and categorized “very good”. The developed materials are appropriate to be used in grade ten of SMA N 1 Sleman in second semester.
CHAPTER I
INTRODUCTION

A. Background of the Research

The newest curriculum, curriculum 2013, is being implemented for grade I, II, IV, V, VII, VIII, X, and XI in all of schools in Indonesia. There are some problems that appear in the implementation of this new curriculum, such as that text books are not provided yet for some subjects. One of those is an English book. The not existing of the english book will affect the English teaching and learning process. Furthermore, this curriculum emphasizes that students are given full autonomy and responsibility in deciding their own learning materials based on their interest as long as it is in accordance with the curriculum. It means that there will be few of specific materials used by teacher in the teaching and learning process.

English is one of the subjects taught in junior and senior high school. The ability to communicate in English is the ability to understand and produce spoken or written language that is integrated in the four skills of English. They are listening, speaking, reading, and writing. According to Flor (2004: 140), the primacy of speaking is obvious since it is assumed that language is an oral phenomenon. It means that speaking is important in language learning.

Many students in Indonesia have difficulties in acquiring verbal English mostly due to the different elements found between English and Indonesian (Ramelan, 1992: 5). In line with Ramelan, Musthafa in Sahiruddin (2013: 572) also lists other reasons for the problems such as limited time allocated for teaching English; lack of opportunity to actually practice speaking English in the classroom due to focus on grammar and syntax and the use of L1/mother tongue; less authentic materials and lack of opportunity to socialize speaking English outside the classroom. It is necessary to consider a number of factors influencing the development of speaking skills during a teaching and learning process, such as speaking production, the process of communication, number of interlocutors, interaction patterns, an amount of information processed, time span, teacher, student, and the conditions under which all these elements mutually interact. Further, Baker (2005:3) argues that many teachers have to teach mainly grammar and vocabularies because these areas are tested in examinations. It means that speaking is a neglected skill in many classrooms. Students may have a good knowledge in grammar but they find it more difficult to speak English outside or, even, inside the classroom.

SMA N 1 Sleman is one of school which is categorized as a favorite school in Sleman regency. Moreover, since the first try out period of implementing curriculum 2013 in the academic year of 2013/2014, SMA N 1 Sleman is one of senior high schools that been chosen to be the first to apply this curriculum.

Based on the observation conducted on February 10th, 2014 in SMA N 1 Sleman, the students had a problem with their speaking skills. It is because there isn’t any specific book and materials used by their teacher to support their speaking skills improvement. They have to find those materials of the certain topic by themselves. They think that it is hard for them to always look for the materials for every topic. From the interview with the teacher, I also found that she did not use specific book. Sometimes, she only took some parts of several books which is in accordance with curriculum 2013. Regarding to this condition, I think that it is important to solve this problem by developing English learning materials, especially for speaking material.

To help learners develop their communicative efficiency in speaking, teachers can use balanced activities approach that combines language-input (material for students, listening activities, reading passage, and soon.). Thornbury (2005: 89-110) assumes that activity, such as storytelling, role play, and simulation, can be used to promote speaking. Those activities will run well if there is media supporting those activities. The use of media is significant in the teaching and learning process. Hamalik (1989: 18) asserts media is used to motivate students in teaching and learning process, inside or outside the classroom. It can help students in understanding a particular lesson.

Based on the interview with some grade X students of SMA N 1 Sleman, I found that students mostly liked to read online comic and also comic book. This is one of the reasons to use comic strips as the media in my speaking materials development for grade X students of SMA N 1 Sleman. Harmer (2001: 135) argues that picture or image brings benefits in speaking. It means that comic, especially comic strips, can be used to teach speaking skills. According to Bongco (2000: 50), comic is an art form using a series of static image in fixed sequence. There are two kinds of comics, comic strips and comic books. A comic strip is defined in this study as series of pictures inside boxes that tell a story. While comic books are collection of stories that have picture consist of one or more titles as themes. A comic strip is more interesting than a picture because comic strips communicate using two major media, words and image, together.

The explanation of some problems above makes me realize that providing comic strip speaking materials to improve speaking skills for grade X in SMA N 1 Sleman is still needed since the materials which are in accordance with the curriculum 2013 are not provided yet.

B. Identification of the Problem

Based on the background of the problem, some problems related to the English learning materials for grade X students of SMA N 1 Sleman are identified as follows.

First, there is no English text book based on curriculum 2013 used by the teacher because the government does not provide it yet. Students have to find those materials of the certain topic by themselves. It is hoped that students will be creative and innovative but, unfortunately, it burdens the students. They think that the previous curriculum is better than curriculum 2013. If this problem cannot be solved soon, it will damage student’s eagerness in learning. Moreover, implementation of curriculum 2013 allowed students to find out their own material based on their interest. In fact, students are incapable to evaluate appropriate learning materials by themselves. So, it is needed providing specific materials for students.

Second, there are few speaking materials used by teacher. Based on my interview with some of grade X students of SMA N 1 Sleman, the learning materials are mainly focused on reading comprehension and writing skills. The consequence is there are many students found difficulties when they try to speak English inside or outside the classroom. The difficulties covered pronunciation, stressing, and self-confident.

Third is related to the media used in learning process. Actually, the teacher has used media in her teaching process but it doesn’t attract students’ interest yet. Based on my interview, I found that students need media which can help them to understand the materials easily and make the learning process more alive and interesting.

C. Limitation of the Problem

Based on the identification of the problems above, it can be said that there are four essential problems in English teaching and learning process in grade X of SMA N 1 Sleman based on curriculum 2013. One of them is there are few speaking material used in curriculum 2013 supporting students’ speaking skills improvement. I think it is important to develop speaking materials through media because media will help teacher to attract students’ attention. Therefore, developing comic strips speaking materials can help teachers handle the teaching and learning process. It also helps students improving their speaking skills.

However, due to the problem, I will focus on the development of comic strips speaking materials. The materials are developed for grade X of SMA N 1 Sleman in the second semester in academic year of 2013/2014 based on curriculum 2013.
D. Formulation of the Problem

Regarding the limitation of the problem, the problems were formulated as the following:

1. What are the target needs of comic strips speaking materials for grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman?
2. What are the learning needs for grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman?
3. What are suitable comic strips speaking materials for grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman?

E. Research Objectives

In accordance with the formulation of the problems, the objectives of the study are as the following:

1. To identify the target needs of comic strips speaking materials for grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman.
2. To find out the learning needs for grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman.
3. To develop suitable comic strips speaking materials for grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman.

F. Research Significances

This research is expected to give some benefits both theoretically and practically.
1. Theoretical significances
   a. The result of the research can develop the material of teaching English as a foreign language especially in speaking material.
   b. The result of the research is used as the reference for those who want to conduct a research in developing speaking material.

2. Practical significances
   a. This research will help the English teachers to get the variety of activities in teaching speaking skills in Senior High School.
   b. This research will improve both teachers’ and students’ abilities to solve their problem in mastering speaking skills.
CHAPTER II
THEORETICAL REVIEW

A. Theoretical Review

1. English in Senior High School

   The number of hours of learning English in the new 2013 curriculum is less than that of previous curriculum. This brings a big challenge for both teacher and students to work harder in achieving the learning goal in a limited time. In addition, schools should also be aware of this condition in which opportunities for additional English learning and exposure could be one effort to improve students learning mastery of English (Sahiruddin, 2013: 573).

   In the curriculum 2013 applied in senior high school, English has been divided into two categories, i.e. compulsory and eclectic. I use some parts of them to develop the speaking material through comic strip in SMA N 1 Sleman. The core competence (KI) and basic competence (KD) category used can be seen below.

The aims of curriculum 2013 is to enable Indonesian students to be faithful, productive, creative, innovative, and effective human being in order to take part in all walks life (Regulation of Indonesian Minister of Education Number 69 year 2013 about Senior High School Curriculum). There are four aspects changed in this curriculum. They are standard competence of passing grade, standard of content, standard of process, and standard of assessment (Regulation of Indonesian Minister of Education Number 54, 65, 66, 67 year 2013).

The change in four aspects has purposes to fulfill three main components of education, attitude knowledge, and skill. This curriculum is characterized by the implication of Scientific Approach in the instructional process in all subjects’ matters in every level of education. The implementation of Scientific Approach engages learners in six stages of instruction. The stages are follows (BSNP (Badan Standar Nasional Penilaian): 2013).

Spratt (2005: 53) states lists of senior high school students’ characteristics. They are able to keep still for longer periods, able concentrate for longer periods, able to learn in more abstract ways, able to control and plan their own behavior, are not so willing to make mistakes or take risks, aware of themselves and/or their actions, are paying attention to form and meaning in language, and have experience of life. However, adult learners are unable for a number of special characteristics as stated by Hamer (2001: 40) below.

a. they can engage with abstract thought,
b. they have a whole range of life experiences to draw on,
c. they have expectations about the learning process and may already have their own set patterns of learning,
d. adults tend to be more discipline than some teenagers and crucially, they are often prepared to struggle on despite boredom,
e. they come into classroom with a rich range of experiences which allow teachers to use a wide range of activities with them, and
f. unlike young children and teenagers, they often have a clear understanding of why they want to get out of it.

2. Materials

a. The Nature of Materials

Tomlinson (1998: 2) asserts that materials refer to anything which is used by the teachers or learners to facilitate the learning of a language that is able to improve the students’ knowledge and experience of the language. Materials are a set of product used in language teaching and learning. Materials can be in the form of newspapers, workbooks, photocopied exercises, etc. Nunan (1991: 208) says that materials are an important element within the curriculum and the most tangible and visible aspect of it. In line with Nunan, Richards (2001: 251) defines instructional materials generally serve as the basis for much of the language input that learners receive and the language practice that occurs in the classroom. In conclusion, materials are everything used by teacher or learners in the teaching and learning process that give students’ opportunities to practice the language and improve their language knowledge.

According to Tomlinson (1998:2), material development is everything made by people (the writers, the teachers, or the learners) to give and utilize information and provide experience of the use of language, which is designed to promote language learning. Therefore, in developing materials they need to identify, first, learners’ needs and consider the objective of the learning. Then, they can develop the materials by adapting them in order to improve or to make them more suitable to learners’ needs. Adaptation can be carried out by reducing, adding, omitting, modifying, and supplementing learning materials.

b. Principle of Good Materials

Hutchinson and Waters (1987: 107) explain that good materials will contain interesting texts, enjoyable activities that engage the learners’ thinking capacities, opportunities for learners to use their existing knowledge and skills, and content which both learners and teachers can cope with. They also state that good materials should provide a clear and coherent unit structure, which will guide teachers and learners through various activities in such a way as to maximize the chance of learning. Tomlinson (1998: 7-22) also states the criteria of good materials, some of them related to my research are mentioned below:
1) Materials should achieve impact. Impact is achieved when materials have a noticeable effect on learners, which is when the learners’ curiosity, interest, and attention are attracted. If this is achieved there is a better chance that some of the language in the materials will be taken for processing.

2) Materials should help learners to feel at ease. Materials can help learners to feel at ease in many ways, for example, texts and illustrations rather than just texts, texts that the learners can relate with their own culture than those that are culturally bound, materials that include examples rather than without, and many others.

3) Materials should require and facilitate learner self-investment. Materials that enable the learners to be interested in them, which can draw their attention and that, can attract them to learn the materials will facilitate them to learn the materials by themselves.

4) The learners’ attention should be drawn to linguistic features of the input. These linguistic features should not become the main focus in the materials but the learners should be made aware that linguistic features are needed to locate and to make a generalization about the function of the linguistic features in the main materials.

5) Materials should provide the learners with opportunities to use the target language to achieve communicative purposes. After learning the materials, learners should be given opportunities to practice the language they have learned for communication in real life situation.
6) Materials should provide opportunities for outcome feedback. A learner who is successful to achieve a particular communicative purpose will gain positive feedback on the effectiveness of the use of the language for further language outcome.

Nunan (1989:48) claims that there are six components of a good task. They are goal, input, activities, teacher roles, learner roles, and setting.

1) Goal

Goal is the main purpose to be obtained of conducted tasks. It is dealing with communicative, affective, and cognitive output (Nunan, 1989:48).

2) Input

Input is everything used in the tasks which can be taken from drawings, family trees, shopping lists, magazine quizzes, and so forth (Nunan, 1989:53). Meanwhile, Hutchinson and Water (1987:108) say that input maybe a text, dialogue, video recording, diagram or any pieces of communication data, depending on the needs that have been defined in the needs analysis.

3) Activities

Brown (2001:129) states that an activity refers to anything learners do in classroom.

4) Teacher’s Roles

Role is described as the action of the teacher and students play in the language learning (Nunan, 1989:79). In addition, Brown (2001: 167 -168) describes the teacher’s roles as controller, director, manager, facilitator, and resource.
5) Learner’s Roles

Richard and Rodger (1986, in Nunan, 2004:64) mention that learner’s role as the objects of conducted task in the materials which perform the activities in the tasks under the instruction given by teacher. Ideally, learner has roles as participant, actor, listener, controller, and so forth, based on the conducted activity.

6) Setting

According to Wright (1987, in Nunan, 2004:71), setting is the arrangement of the task which can be done individually, in pairs, in groups, or in a whole class mode.

c. Target Needs

The target needs refer to what the learners need to do in the target situation. The target needs include necessities, lacks and wants.

1) Necessities

Necessities refer to what the learners have to know in order to function effectively in the target situation (Hutchinson and Waters, 1987: 55). This is a matter of observing what situation the learners will need to function in.

2) Lacks

According to Hutchinson and Waters (1987: 55-56), the learners’ lack is the gap between the target proficiency and the existing proficiency of the learners. It means that, what the learners know already should be recognized to decide which of the necessities the learners’ lack. It is illustrated as a gap between the ideal situation or target situation with the real conditions.

3) Wants

The learners may have a clear idea of the necessities of the target situation and their lacks. They also have a view to what they want or they need. The learners’ motivation is important in the learning process, so learners’ perceived wants cannot be ignored (Hutchinson and Waters, 1987: 57). Wants related to learners’ desires. They realize that they need English to support their career.

d. Learning needs

According to Hutchinson and Waters (1987: 60-62), learning needs indicates the route: how the learners are going to get from their starting point (lacks) to the destination (necessities).

To have useful analysis of learners needs, the needs, potential and constraints of the route must be considered. In addition, the learners must choose their route according to the conditions of the learning situations, their knowledge, skills and strategies, and their motivation.

e. Materials Design

There are some points of view in relation with ‘material’ and material design’. Tomlinson (1998: 2) stated that material refers to anything which is used by the teacher or learners to facilitate the language learning. It can be in the form of textbook, cassettes, videos, dictionaries, newspapers, and so on. Moreover,
Tomlinson also states that material development refers to anything, which is done by the writers, teachers, or learners to provide sources of the language input and to exploit those sources, which can maximize the students’ ability in learning the language.

The way materials are organized and presented as well as the types of the content and the activities will help to shape the students’ view of the target language (Nunan, 1991). One of the most widely used material design model was proposed by Dick and Carey. Dick and Carey (in Borg and Gall: 1983) proposed 10 steps in the R & D cycle.

1) Step 1 involves the definition of goals for the instructional program or product.

2) In step 2, an instructional analysis is undertaken to identify the specific skills, procedures, and learning tasks that are involved in reaching the goal of instruction.

3) Step 3 is designed to identify the learners’ entry skills and attitudes, the characteristics of the instructional setting, and the characteristics of the setting in which the new knowledge and skills will be used.

4) Step 4 involves translating the needs and goals of instruction into specific performance objectives. Performance objectives provide the basis for precise planning of instructional materials

5) During step 5, assessment instruments are developed. These instruments should be directly related to the knowledge and skills specified in the performance objectives.
6) In step 6 a specific instructional strategy is developed for assisting learners with their efforts to achieve each performance objective.

7) Step 7 involves the development of instructional materials, which may include print materials such as textbooks or other media. Lesson plans or guidelines for instruction would also be developed in this step.

8) Formative evaluation is conducted in step 8. Formative evaluation is done by developers while the product is under development, in order to support the process of improving its effectiveness.

9) In step 9, the results of the formative evaluation are used to revise the instructional materials in ways that appear desirable based upon formative evaluation results.

10) Step 10 involves summative evaluation. Summative evaluation is conducted to determine how worthwhile the final program is.

f. Task

Learners are encouraged to activate and use whatever language they already have in the process of completing a task. The use of tasks will also give a clear and purposeful context for the teaching and learning of grammar and other language features as well as skills. Nunan (2007: 35-37) has summarized seven principles which have to be followed in the frame of task-based language teaching: scaffolding, task dependency, recycling, active learning, integration, reproduction to creation, and reflection.

The first principle, scaffolding, claims that lessons and materials should provide supporting frameworks within which the learning takes place. At the beginning of the learning process, learners should not be expected to produce language that has not been explicitly taught. The learners have to be provided the language they need in order to complete the task. The second, task dependency, states that one task should grow out of, and builds upon the ones that have gone before. The third, recycling, states that the learners can experience how the target language items function in closely related to context and in completely different one. The fourth, active learning, states that learners acquire the language by actively using it. The teacher should play a more passive role as far as possible. The fifth, integration, states that learners are taught in ways that make clear the relationships between grammatical form, communicative function, and semantic meaning. The sixth, reproduction to creation, claims that learners reproduce language models provided by the teacher or the textbook. These tasks are designed to give learners mastery of form, meaning and function, and provide a basis for creative tasks. The last, reflection, Nunan mentions the reflective element, namely that learners should be given opportunities to reflect on what they have learned and how well they are doing.

g. The Process of Instructional Design

“Instructional process is a systematic process in which every component (i.e. teacher, learners, materials, and learning environment) is crucial to successful learning” (Dick, Carey & Carey, 2001: 2). This study is to develop a set of teaching-learning materials. Therefore, it should be developed neatly and carefully by following systematic procedures in order to make it successful; i.e. it reaches its objectives. One of models of instructional design that provide stages in developing an instructional material belongs to Hutchinson and Waters’ design model.

According to Hutchinson and Waters (1987: 65), course design is the process of interpreting data about learning need in order to produce an integrated series of teaching-learning experiences. There are three main approaches to course design according to Hutchinson and Waters (1987), they are:

1) Language-centred approach

Language-centred course design process aims to draw direct connection between the analysis of the target situation and the content of the ESP course.

2) Skills-centred approach

Skills-centred course design process aims to help the learners develop certain skills and strategies. Therefore, its learning objectives are to develop learners’ competencies so that they are able to perform in the target situation.

3) Learning-centred approach

Learning-centred course design process concerns with the process of learning of the learners. It aims to help learners understand how they can acquire their competencies

h. Materials Evaluation

Tomlinson and Manuhara (in Indrayanti and Sa’jaun (2009: 7)) define the term of material evaluation as the activity in evaluating materials. It involves measuring the value of a set of learning material by making judgment about the effect of the materials on the students using them. Further, Tomlinson (1998: 192) states that the evaluation of materials aims to find out, which components of the learning materials need to be fixed and improved for the sake of learning outcomes improvement.

To evaluate the materials, some experts of media would be asked to get their judgments. The students and the teacher would be asked to get their comments about the materials. Questionnaires and interviews would be used to evaluate the materials.

3. Text-based

Text-based teaching involves explicit teaching of the structure of different text types and an instructional strategy in which the teacher introduces the text and its purpose features, guides students through the production of texts though the process of scaffolding. Nunan (1999:308) also states that genre is a purposeful, socially constructed oral or written communicative event, such as narrative, a casual conversation, a poem, a recipe, or a description. Different genres are characterized by a particular structure or stages, and grammatical forms that reflect the communicative purpose of the genre in question.

Furthermore, Knapp and Watkins (2005:21) argue that genre is an organizing concept for our culture practices, any field of genres constitutes a network of contrasts according to a variety of parameters, genre is a place occasion, function, behavior, and interactional structure; it is very rarely useful to think of it is a kind of ‘text’, genre is culture competence involves knowing the appropriateness principle for any genre, knowing the kind of margin you have with it, being able to vary it, knowing how to shift from one to another and how many factors would be involve in any such shift.

4. The Nature of Speaking

a. Learning Speaking

Function of speaking of language is a means of communication, as like Wilkins opinion in his book (1974:1) that language is central to human experience and if we are to understand the process by which men communicate with one another, it most looks closely at the human capacity for language and at the particular qualities of language which important role within us and between us. Brown and Yule (1983: 23) assume that in language teaching, students mostly learn about the nature of interactional speech in his own language can be transferred to the foreign language. It means that oral skill takes amount part in language learning.

Having ability to speak at least one foreign language is necessity. In real life encounters most contacts a language learner will possibly take the form of oral interaction. Talking about the development of speaking skills during a teaching and learning process, it is necessary to consider a number of factors influenced this process, such as oral production, the process of communication, number of interlocutors, interaction patterns, an amount of information processed, time span, teacher, student, the conditions under which all these elements mutually interact.
Speaking is a productive skill that can be directly and empirically observed (Brown, 2001:140), involving two people who are engaged in talking to each other (Harmer, 2007: 67), using language to express meaning so that other people can make sense of them (Cameron, 2001: 40). The productive skill is the skill that is used by learners to produce language. In this case the speakers’ performance can be directly observed and empirically measured in the speaking process. Involving two people who are engaged in talking to each other, this situation means that the speakers share their understanding with each other in some kinds of informational exchanges. Here, the speakers deliver their intention in appropriate diction so that the listener will understand the meaning. By using language to express meaning, the speakers express their intended meaning to the listeners so that the listeners can make sense of the speakers. Here, the participants have the same knowledge so that the speaker’s intended meaning can be easily delivered.

b. Aspects of Speaking Skills

Nunan (1999) states that fluency means that the speakers are required to be able to keep going when speaking spontaneously. However, it does not mean that the speakers speak so fast because sometimes pausing is important. That pause is an aspect of fluency which may be long but not frequent. Moreover, when speaking fluently, speakers should be able to get the message across with whatever resources and abilities they have got and regardless of any grammatical and other mistakes. Otherwise, Nunan (1999) also asserts that accuracy means that the speakers are required to use the correct vocabulary, grammar, and pronunciation. It uses correct example of language use.

The differences between activities that focus on fluency and those that focus on accuracy can be summarized as follows.

1) Activities focusing on fluency
   a) Reflect natural use of language
   b) Focus on achieving communication
   c) Require meaningful use of language
   d) Require the use of communication strategies
   e) Produce language that may not be predictable
   f) Seek to link language use to context

2) Activities focusing on accuracy
   a) Reflect classroom use of language
   b) Focus on the formation of correct examples of language
   c) Practice language out of context
   d) Practice small samples of language
   e) Do not require meaningful communication
   f) Control choice of language

c. Types of Classroom Speaking Performance

   In designing speaking activities or instructional materials for second language or foreign-language teaching, it is necessary to recognize the different functions speaking performs in daily communication and the different purposes for which the students need speaking skills. According to Brown (2001: 271-274), there are five types of speaking. They are imitative, intensive, responsive, interactive, and extensive.

In imitative speaking performance, learners imitate or parrot back a word or phrase or possibly a sentence. The purpose of imitation is not for meaningful interaction but for focusing on some particular elements of language form. Drilling is the example of imitative speaking performance. An intensive speaking performance is related to the production of short stretches of oral language to demonstrate the competence such as grammatical, phrasal, lexical, or phonological relationship (prosodic elements: intonation, stress, rhythm, juncture) (Brown, 2004: 273).

Another type of classroom speaking performance is called responsive. Short replies are the example of speaking performance which does not extend into dialogues, for example standard greetings, simple requests and comments etc. The stimulus is always a spoken prompt in order to preserve the authenticity with only one or two follow-up questions (Brown, 2004: 141).

Interactive speaking performance consists of transactional and interpersonal dialogues. Transactional dialogue is carried out for the purpose of conveying or exchanging information. This type of speaking performance is an extended form of responsive language. A conversation is the example of transactional dialogue. Another extended form of performance in interpersonal dialogue. Compared to the purpose of transactional language, interpersonal (dialogue) tends to maintain social relationships better than exchange information.
Some elements may involve in a dialogue such as a casual register, colloquial language, emotionally charged language, slang, ellipsis, sarcasm etc.

The last speaking performance is extensive (monologue). Extensive oral production can be in the form of reports, summaries, and speeches. It can be planned or impromptu.

Meanwhile, Thornbury (2005: 89-110) suggests some activities to promote speaking. They are discussion and debate; drama, role play, and simulation; presentation; classroom conversation and casual chat; outside-class speaking; and storytelling, joke, and anecdote. Discussion and debate tend to be difficult speaking activities and therefore they are commonly suitable for higher level students (intermediate/advance). Many teachers would agree that discussion at class which arise students to talk spontaneously is a good activity since it provokes the students to exchange information.

d. Macro and Micro skills of Speaking

Brown (2004: 142) distinguishes between micro skills and macro skills of speaking. The micro skills refer to producing the smaller chunks of language such as phonemes, morphemes, words, collocations, and phrasal units. The macro skills imply the speaker’s focus on the larger elements: fluency, discourse, function, style, cohesion, nonverbal communication, and strategic options. Brown (2004: 142-143) continues to explain micro and macro skills of oral production as quoted bellow.
1) Macro skills
   a) Appropriately accomplish communicative functions according to situations, participants, and goals.
   b) Use appropriate styles, registers, implicature, redundancies, pragmatic conventions, conversation rules, floor-keeping and floor-yielding, interrupting, and other sociolinguistic features in face-to-face conversations.
   c) Convey links and connections between events and communicate such relations as focal and peripheral ideas, events and feelings, new and given information, generalization, and exemplification.
   d) Convey facial features, kinesics, body language, and other nonverbal cues along with verbal language.
   e) Develop and use a battery of speaking strategies, such as emphasizing key words, rephrasing, providing a context for interpreting the meaning of words, appealing for help, and accurately assessing how well your interlocutor in understanding you.

2) Micro skills
   a) Produce differences among English phonemes and allophonic variants.
   b) Produce chunks of language of different lengths.
   c) Produce English stress patterns, words in stressed and unstressed positions, rhythmic structure, and intonation contours.
   d) Produce reduced forms of words and phrases.
   e) Use an adequate number of lexical units (words) to accomplish pragmatic purposes.
   f) Produce fluent speech at different rates of delivery.
   g) Monitor one’s own oral production and use various strategic devices—pauses, fillers, self-corrections, backtracking—to enhance the clarity of the message.
   h) Use grammatical word classes (nouns, verbs etc.), system (e.g. tense, agreement, pluralization), word order, patterns, rules, and elliptical forms.
   i) Produce speech in natural constituents: in appropriate phrases, pause groups breathe groups, and sentence constituents.
   j) Express a particular meaning in different grammatical forms.
   k) Use cohesive devices in spoken discourse.

(Brown, 2004: 142-143)
Communicative Language Teaching (CLT)

e. The Nature of Communicative Language Teaching

According to Richards (2006: 24-25) communicative language teaching (CLT) is a new approach used widely since the 1990s. CLT is the name which was given to a set of beliefs which included not only a re-examination of what aspect of language to teach, but also in a shift in emphasis in how to teach. The “what to teach” aspect of the communicative approach stressed the significance of language function rather than focusing solely on grammar and vocabulary. A guiding principle was to train students to use these language forms appropriately in variety of context and for a variety of purposes. The “how to teach aspect” of communicative approach is closely related to the idea that language learning will take care of its self and that plentiful exposure to language in use and plenty of opportunities to use it are vitally important for students’ development and skill (Harmer, 1998: 84).

Here are some core assumptions of current CLT.

1) Native language is allowed as long as learners engage in interaction and meaningful communication.

2) Learners negotiate meaning through the task, expand their language resource, and notice how language is used.

3) Learning language is a gradual process involving creative use of language and trial and error. The goal of learning is using the new language fluently and accurately.

4) Successful language learning uses communication strategies.
5) The role of the teacher is a facilitator and learners learn through collaboration and sharing.

f. Activities in Communicative Language Teaching

Developing materials is about developing activities as well. In guiding the developing of the activities that reflect the principles of communicative language teaching methodology, Richards (2006: 15) proposes several main types of activities that were one of the outcomes of CLT.

1) Fluency and Accuracy Activities

Fluency is developed by creating classroom activities in which students must negotiate meaning, use communication strategies, correct misunderstandings, and work to avoid communication breakdown. There are several characteristics of fluency activities; reflect natural use of language, focus on achieving communication, require meaningful use of language, require the use of communication strategies, produce language that may not be predictable, seek to link language use to context.

On the other hand, focuses on creating correct examples of language use. It deals with grammatical and pronunciation problems. Using balance of fluency activities and accuracy and to use accuracy activities to support fluency activities is what the teachers should do.

2) Information-Gap Activities

Information gap is an important aspect in CLT. This is based on what people in real communication do. They communicate in order to get the information that they do not have before. In information-gap activities, students use their linguistic and communicative resources in order to obtain information. They will also deal with vocabularies, grammar, and communication strategies to complete a task.

3) Jigsaw Activities

This activity has the information-gap principle as the basis. Usually, the class is divided into groups and each group has part of the information needed to complete an activity. The class must fit the pieces together to complete the whole. In order to complete the activities, students need to use their language resources to communicate meaningfully.

4) Task Completion Activities

In these activities, students are expected to use their language resources to complete the given task.

5) Information-gathering activities

Collecting information using their linguistic resources is what the students are expected to do in this type of activity. It can be done through student-conducted surveys, interviews, and searches.

6) Opinion-sharing activities

This is a kind of activities in which students compare values, opinions, beliefs, such as a ranking task in which students list six qualities in order of importance that they might consider in choosing something.
7) Information-transfer activities

In applying this activities, learners are required to take information that is presented in one form and represent it in different it in a different form. For example, students may read instructions on how to get from A to B, and then draw a map showing the sequence.

8) Reasoning-gap activities

These involve deriving some new information from given information through the process of inference, practical reasoning, etc. For example, working out a teacher’s timetable on the basis of given class timetables.

9) Role plays

Role play is an activity in which students are plays roles and improvise a scene or exchange based on given information or clues. This type of activity is used a lot in communicative learning.

5. Comic Strips

Sudjana (2002:664) defines a comic as a kind of cartoon from expression character and playing a story in sequences of closely related drawing and it is designed to give fun to the readers. It contains sequential brief and interesting stories with complete the action. Comic also appear in newspaper and books. Meanwhile, Maila in beard and Rhodes (2002) state that comic is a narrative text told by way of sequence of pictures which has continue cast from one sequence to the next and the enclosure of dialogue and/or text within the pictures. In addition,
Hornby (1987:168) states that comic is books or magazines which contains story in the form of drawing.

Comics are an art form using a series of static images in fixed sequence. Written text is often incorporated. The two most common forms of comics are comic strips (as appear in newspaper) and comic books (also popularly called “manga” when referring to Japanese comic books). Comic strips are serial comics that are published in a newspaper. Whereas comic books are collections of stories that have pictures and consist of one or more title and theme. They are called comics or comic books in Indonesia.

Mc Cloud (1993) says that comic strips is a composition of picture or other images in purposeful sequence which have aims to convey information and visual response in the view. He also adds that comics can be educational tools which have strength to motivate students’ learning.

Csbay (2006) defines the characteristics of comic strips into some principles. First, comic strips are authentic language using a visual written text (dialogue). It is useful for students because it can motivate the students. The use of comic strips will help students to understand the meaning. It is because the language is provided naturally. They can understand the use of language in the real life. The “authentic” presentations help them to enlarge their vocabularies. It is very easy for them to recall the content because of the visualization in the comic strips. In the other word, the visual in comic strips can provide communicative competence. Comic strips also contribute the communicative competence by the use of body language and gesture. Another job of comic strips is to help the students in learning the whole set of English language not simplified. The activities will active their language production in the real situation using the correct expression.

According to Fabregas (2013), there are several differences of comic strip and comic book. The first difference is that comic strip merely has limited panels while comic book has any number of panels. Secondly, comic strips theme usually is humorous or satirical while comic book theme has any kinds of plot. Third, the story of a comic strip could stand alone which differs from a comic book that needs continuity. Considering those characteristics, it is important to look deeper at the use of comic strips in the classroom.

a. The criteria of a Good Comic Strip

According to Mc Cloud (2006) there are several aspects that should be considered in making a good comic. The aspects are choice of moment, choice of image, choice of frame, choice of word, choice of flow, character design, characters body language and facial expression, choice of landscape and properties.

Choice of moment and image that is illustrated in a panel should describe the topic of story. The choice of frame, caption, and dialogue balloon should support the story. The choice of plot should be clear by following the flow of the panel. The choice of character should be easy identified. The characters body language and facial expression should be easily recognized. The coloration should support the illustration of the comic. The language use in the comic should discuss the topic of the story and the grammatical should be correct.

b. Roles of Comic strips in Teaching Speaking

Comic or comic strips are an art work which has sequence of stories about characteristics and events in the form of picture which can be humorous, mystery, adventure, love and etc. Besides, it can not only entertain the reader with funny or mystery story, but also be used as an authentic material or media in teaching speaking. According to Davis (1990) comic strips are one of authentic materials which have been explored over the past few years in teaching language. In addition, Oller in Csbay (2006:24) states that comic strips are authentic and using authentic material is very important in language teaching and learning. It can help students

Strength of comic strips in education according to Versaci (2002) can be described as follow:

a. Motivating

The most frequently mentioned asset of comic strips as an educational tool is its ability to motivate students. Through comic strips as a media, the teacher can give motivation to the students to learn English in more enjoyable and interesting way. The students, especially young learner, like read the comic strips. If they are given options to study or read the comic strips, they will choose read the comic strips. So, with the use of comic strips as a media in teaching English, they do not realize that they are learning English. They are motivated to learning English.

b. Visual

Comic strips, being composed of pictorial and other images, are fundamentally the interest of the students in comic strips emphasizes the potential of visual medium. This is comic strips’ primary advantage over other literary forms. Picture and text shoulder the burden of communication together; an interplay of the written and visual. Some people feel that comic strips cannot quite literally put a human face of any given subject resulting in intimate, emotional connection between learners and characters of comic strips.

c. Intermediary

Comic strips can serve as an intermediate step to difficult disciplines and concepts. Many teachers have used comic strips in this manner with tremendous success. Comic strips can lead them towards the discipline reading, especially those who do not enjoy reading or have a fair or failure.

d. Popular

Comic is a popular reading for children. If we ask the students, whether they have read comic or not, most of them would say, “yes.” It is very popular because comic has interesting story and full of colors. That is why the children like it. By comics, students can learn about culture. Teachers can introduce popular culture into their classroom easily and effectively through comics. By incorporating popular culture into curriculum teachers can bridge the separation many students feel, between their lives in and out of school. According to Versaci (2002), through comic, teacher can lead their students in a study of “contemporary lifestyles, myths, and values”

B. Conceptual Framework

Oral skill is one of the important skills that should be acquired by students. Ideally, in the oral teaching and learning process, students have to be given some opportunities to practice a target language and produce it in the spoken form. They can practice the language in the forms of dialogs, monologs, discussions, games, or role plays. Besides, those practices can be given in controlled, guided, or creative activities. As has been stated in Chapter I, the tenth grade students of SMA N 1 Sleman have a main problem which is related to there isn’t any specific book and materials based on curriculum 2013 used by their teacher to support their speaking skills improvement. Students had to find those materials of the certain topic by themselves. They thought that it is hard for them to always look for the materials for every topic. Based on the observation conducted in SMA N 1 Sleman, one of characteristics of tenth grade student is they mostly liked to read online comic and comic book. This is one of the reasons to solve the problem by developing speaking material through comic strips based on curriculum 2013. It is hoped that students’ oral skill will be improved. The actions would be carried out in the second semester of social III students of grade X at SMA N 1 Sleman. I developed it based on the R & D steps proposed by Borg and Gall, i.e. identifies and defines a problem and educational need in a field of research, planning objectives, learning activities, and small scale testing, the development of a preliminary form of the product, preliminary field testing, product revision, main field testing, operational field testing.
CHAPTER III
RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

A. Research Design

This research is aimed at developing comic strips speaking material for grade X of SMA N 1 Sleman. It is categorized as Research and Development study. Borg, Borg, and Gall (1989) propose that R&D is an industry-based development model, in which the research findings are used to design new products and procedures, which then are systematically field-tested, evaluated, and refined until they meet specific criteria of effectiveness, quality, or similar standards.

B. Research Product

The final product of this research is a comic strips speaking material for grade X of SMA N 1 Sleman in the second semester in academic year of 2013/2014 based on curriculum 2013. This book consists of three chapters. The first chapter focused on how to describe people (descriptive). It consisted of sixteen tasks. The second chapter focused on how to tell an experience (recount). It consisted of twenty one tasks. The third chapter focused on how to tell a story (narrative). It consisted of eighteen tasks.

C. Research setting

This research was conducted from January 2014 to April 2014 at SMA N 1 Sleman that is on Jl. Magelang Km. 14, Medari, Caturharjo, Sleman, Yogyakarta. It has fifteen classrooms. The research conducted in this school because this is one of schools in Sleman regency which have applied curriculum 2013 since the first try out period but there is not any specific speaking material based on curriculum 2013 for learning process.

D. Research Subject

The research subjects were the students of grade X students of SMA N 1 Sleman in the second semester in academic year of 2013/2014. Students of grade X that chosen consisted of 32 students.

E. Research Procedure

The research procedure refered to the system approach model by Dick and Carey (in Borg, Borg, and Gall (1989)). However, the model is simplified by selecting only some steps to be applied in the study. It is in order to shorten the research time and make it more effective. The simplified model is illustrated below.

!Model of system material development from Dick and Carey

1. Step 1: Needs Analysis

In this step, needs analysis and curriculum analysis are conducted. It had purposes to gather information of the learning and learners’ needs. The data obtained by distributing the first questionnaire among grade X students of SMA N 1 Sleman in the second semester in academic year of 2013/2014.

2. Step 2: Writing Course Grid

The results of needs analysis and curriculum analysis were used to write a course grid that was used as the framework to develop the materials. The course grid was consisted of learning objectives, language functions, key expressions, language focuses, key grammatical structures, key vocabulary, input texts, media, and learning activities.

3. Step 3: Designing The Materials

Developed comic strip speaking material based on the course grid was started in this step. There were 3 units which each consists of about 17 tasks. The materials focused on speaking skill.

4. Step 4: Expert Judgment

The materials were evaluated by the experts to assess the appropriateness of the materials. The process of assessment was using expert judgment questionnaire. The questionnaire was adapted from the criteria of material development proposed by BNSP (Badan Standar Nasional Penilaian). The experts were also provided some spaces write their opinion or suggestion.
5. Step 5 : Revising

The result of the expert judgment questionnaire were analyzed and used to revise the first draft of the materials. The revisions were based on some categories such as the content, language presentation, layout, and comic illustration. After being revised, the materials were considered as appropriateness English learning material.

F. Data Collections and Instruments

1. Data Collections

There were two kinds of data in this research; qualitative data and quantitative data. The qualitative data were used to identify the target needs. Meanwhile, the quantitative data were used to identify the learning needs and evaluation in expert judgement.

In this study, some techniques were used in collecting the data as follow:

a. Interview

This technique was used for analyzing the target needs of the learners. To find the target needs of the learners, interviews with the English teacher of tenth grade of SMA N 1 Sleman were conducted. The teacher was interviewed to support the data from questionnaires.

b. Questionnaire

There were two kinds of questionnaire used in this research. Firstly, the needs analysis questionnaire was used to gather the data of the target and learning needs in English. The learners were asked to answer several questions related to the characteristics and needs in learning English by choosing one or more options from several options provided. However, they were also allowed to give other answers related to the questions.

Secondly, options and suggestions from the expert were asked through expert judgment questionnaires to gain the evaluation of the materials developed, to evaluate the illustration of comic strips, and to find the appropriateness of the materials designed.

2. Data Instruments
   a. Questionnaire

   There were two types of questionnaires distributed to student and material expert. They were need analysis questionnaire and expert judgment questionnaires. First, need analysis questionnaire was distributed to find out the target needs and the learning needs of the X grade of SMA N 1 Sleman. This questionnaire was adapted from Nunan (2004) and Hutchinson and Waters (1987). Second, the expert judgment questionnaire was proposed to the materials expert and comic illustration to get suggestions and comments about the material development. This questionnaire was adapted from BSNP (Badan Standar Nasional Penilaian) and Mc Cloud (2006). The result of expert judgment questionnaire were used to revise the first draft of the material.
b. Interview Guide

The interview guide was used to gather some information about students’ problems and needs from the teacher. Teacher’s information way used to support the result of needs analysis questionnaire which was distributed to students.

G. Data Analysis Techniques

1. Quantitative Data

The quantitative data were the results of data collection through questionnaire. There were two types of questionnaire in this research. They are questionnaire for needs analysis and questionnaire for material evaluation. Quantitative data from need analysis questionnaire were analyzed through calculating the percentage of each answer on the questionnaire by following the formula proposed by Sugiyono (Sugiyono, 2009: 144):

\[ P(\%) = \frac{f}{n}(100) \]

Where :
\( P = \) Precentage
\( f = \) Frequency
\( n = \) Total number of Respondents
100 = Fixed number

The highest percentage of answer on each questionnaire is considered as the tendency of the students related to the condition.
The next quantitative data were data from material evaluation. The data from this questionnaire were measured by using Mean and analyzed by using a formula proposed by Suharto (2008: 14) which is:

\[ Mn = \frac{\Sigma fx}{N} \]

Where: \( Mn = \) Mean
\( \Sigma fx = \) total score
\( N = \) total number of data.

In classifying the category of the mean, theory proposed by Suharto (2006: 52-53) about quantitative data conversion was used.

\[ R = \frac{(Xt - Xr)}{4} \]

Where: \( R = \) Range
\( Xt = \) highest score
\( Xr = \) lowest score

The range obtained from calculating of the formula above was 0.75. The conversion was presented below.

Table 3.1. Quantitative data conversion.

2. Qualitative Data

The qualitative data were gathered from the interview with the tenth grade students and the teacher. The data were analyzed using several steps proposed by Miles and Huberman (1994).

a. Data reduction: the process of transforming masses of data into smaller number of categories.

b. Data display: organizing into that permits conclusion drawing and action.

c. Data conclusion: deciding what things means.
CHAPTER IV
FINDING AND DISCUSSION

This chapter presents the findings of this research. The findings cover the results of the needs analysis, the course grid, the unit design, and the first draft of the materials, the expert judgment, and the final draft of the materials. A discussion of the findings is also presented here.

A. Research Findings

1. The Results of the Needs Analysis

   a. Target Needs

      The respondents of the needs analysis questionnaire were grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman. The description of the respondents is presented in the following table.

      Table 4.1 Respondents of The Needs Analysis

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Number of Respondent</th>
<th>Sex</th>
<th>Age</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Male</td>
<td>Female</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>32</td>
<td>20</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

From the Table 4.1, it could be seen that there were 32 participants who filled in the questionnaire. The respondents consisted of 20 males and 12 females. The age of the respondents was around 16 years old.

According to Hutchinson and Waters (1987:54) target needs are what the learners need to do in the target situation. Target needs consist of 3 aspects which are necessities, lacks, and wants.

1) Necessities

   According to Hutchinson and Waters (1987:55), target needs are what the learners need to know in order to function effectively in the target situation. The descriptions of the student’s necessities are presented in the following table.

Table 4.2 Necessities of the Students

<table>

</tr>
<tr>

</tbody>
</table>

For the target need of necessity, there were 40.63% of the students that had purposed of studying English because they wanted to be able to communicate with English native speakers. The students who wanted to be able to master and use grammar and vocabularies for daily life was 15.63%. According to the necessity of the students above, this book provides materials that lead students to be able to communicate in English because the tasks of this book require students to communicate a lot in the class, such as communicating information and sharing the answer to other.

2) Lacks

Lacks are related to the gap of the students between what that they already have and what they have to know in the target situations. The descriptions of the students’ lacks are presented in the following tables.
Table 4.3 Lack of the Students

<table>

</tbody>
</table>

When speaking in English, the difficulties faced by 31.25% of the students were related to memorizing the elements of functional text, such as describing people and telling a story or an experience. The second difficulties faced by 25% of the students were related to memorizing the pattern (formulas of the sentence) and expressing by particular meaning due to the limited number of vocabulary mastery. According to the lack of the students above, this book provides materials containing some functional texts and the elements of describing people, telling a story or an experience, so it will help students to produce oral functional texts. This book also provides some grammar and vocabularies related to each topic of the book, such as present tense, adjectives.

3) Wants

Wants related to students’ want. The students may have a clear idea of the necessities of the target situation and their lacks. They also have a view to what they want or they need (Hutchinson and Waters, 1987: 57). The descriptions of the students’ wants are presented in the following tables.

Table 4.4 Wants of The Students

</tbody>

For the students’ wants, the percentages nearly had same quantity. There were 28.13% of the students who wanted to be able to use any kind of words, sentences, and expression to communicate well after learning English, especially speaking. The students who wanted to be able using formal and informal to communicate well was 21.87%. There were 53.13% of the students who intended to have a good speaking skill, because it would help them in the future after they learnt English in Senior High School.
To accommodate the students’ wants, various activities that cover the use of words, sentences, and expressions in formal or informal situations were developed. The audio materials of the listening section were also recorded using native speakers’ voice to make the students practice listening from real situation. This book also provides lists of vocabularies and the use of grammars.

b. Learning Needs

Learning needs is considered as what the learner needs to do in order to learn (Hutchinson and Waters 1987:60).

1) Input

Input refers to the spoken and visual data that learners’ work within the course of completing task. The descriptions of the input are presented in the following tables.

Table 4.5 The Topic of Comic

For comic input, most of students about 62.50% wanted a clear situation provided in the comic strip and the students who wanted a clear plot was 12.50%, so it would help them to understand the learning material.

Table 4.7 shows that should be >50 words long in the balloon text as 34.37% of students voted for it. There were 28.13% of students who also chose 30-40 words in the balloon text.

Table 4.9 shows that most of the students about 81.25% wanted the characters used in the comic strip are characters represented in daily life and there were 81.25% of the students who wanted to combine characters in the previous panels with a new character in every comic strip but the number of characters is limited to easier students memorizing the characters.

From the input data above, the book used teenagers’ daily life as the topic. It had clear situation and < 50 words in the dialogue balloon. The comic was also colorful and used Comic Sans MS as the font types. For the character, the book used the characters that represent of daily life and combined characters in the previous panels with a new character in every comic strip to help students memorizes the characters.

2) Procedures

Procedures specify what learners will actually do with the input that forms the point of departure for the learning task. The descriptions of the procedure are presented in the following tables.

Table 4.10 Learning Procedures

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>No.</th>

</tbody>
</table>

Table 4.10 shows that in the speaking activity, the percentages had a same quantity. There were 15.63% of students who chose practicing dialogue, about 21.87% of students chose completing the missing word then practice it, about 28.13% of the students chose role play, and about 34.37% of the students chose sharing information and share. It means that students wanted to have a various activity in the learning process. It covered practicing dialogue, completing the missing words then practicing it, role play, and sharing information with friend. Various activities were used in the procedure of the speaking book.
3) Setting

Setting refers to the classroom arrangements specified or implied in the task. It also requires consideration of whether the task is to be carried out wholly or partly outside the classroom. The table below shows the setting of learning that most of the students want.

Table 4.11 Setting

<table>

</tbody>
</table>

Table 4.11 shows that in doing the task, the students who wanted to do the task in variation were 53.13%. Sometimes, they wanted to do the task individually, pairs, or groups. In doing the activity, about 81% of students liked doing the activity in a discussion session and in a small group. In doing the activity, most of students about 81.25% preferred to do the activity inside the classroom.
From the data above, the activities of the book are made in variation. The tasks are made individually, pairs, and groups. The book also provided discussion part in a small group.

4) Learner’s role

Role refers to the part that learners and teachers are expected to play in carrying out learning tasks as well as the social and interpersonal relationships between the participants (Nunan, 2004: 64). The descriptions of the learner’s role are presented in the following tables.

Table 4.12 Learner’s Role

</table>

Table 4.12 shows that in doing English activity, the students around 81.25% wanted to have role as an active participant. The students around 12% wanted to have the role as listener and participant. It means that students wanted to be active learners.

5) Teacher’s Role

Teacher’s role is described as the action of the teacher in the learning process such as controller, director, manager, facilitator, and resource (Brown, 2001: 167 -168). The descriptions of the teacher’s role are presented in the following table.
Table 4.13 Teacher’s Role

<td>25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Other</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Table 4.13 shows that during the task, some students about 53.13% liked if the teacher acted as a facilitator during the task completion. There were 15.63% of the students who liked if the teacher walked around to help students doing the tasks if there were some difficulties.

The needs analysis interview was conducted on 19th October 2013 to English teacher and some students of grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman. Based on the interview with the English teacher, Mrs. Nanik, S.Pd, it was found that the main problem of her teaching was that there was not any a specific book based on curriculum 2013. It means that providing English book based on curriculum are needed for learning process.

Based on the interview with the students, it was found that they had less ability in speaking. It means that focusing on developing speaking material was needed for students speaking improvement.

Comic strip is chosen as the media in developing material because most of the students liked to read comic book and online comic. This was the reason of choosing comic strips as the media in developing material. If the students liked the material, it would carry out the students to improve their speaking skills.

Based on the questionnaire and interview data above, it could be seen that grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman needed a speaking material in a form of comic strips that covered the learners and learning needs. From the data above, it could be seen that the students were interested in reading comic. To make the learning process interesting for them, it was important to use media that they liked such as comic. It means developing comic strips speaking materials for grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman was needed.

2. The course grid

The course grid was written after the researcher found out the target needs and the learning needs of the students. The students’ preferences were shown by the highest percentage of the students’ answers in the needs analysis questionnaire. The course grid, then, was written in accordance to the highest percentage of the target needs and learning needs.

The course grid was written as the guideline for developing the comic strips speaking materials for tenth grade of SMA N 1 Sleman. The researcher wrote 3 course grids as the learning material which was developed into 3 units.

In unit one, the materials are related to core competence number 1,2,3,4 and basic competence number 1.1, 2.3, 3.7, 4.8, 4.9, and 4.10. The title of the unit is “What does he look like?”. The indicators are students are able to analyze the social purposes, text structure, linguistics features of simple descriptive texts about people based on its context, comprehend the meaning of oral simple descriptive text, cite an oral simple descriptive text about people focused on the social purposes, text structure, linguistics features of simple descriptive text about people based on its context, create an oral simple descriptive text about people focused on the social purposes, text structure, linguistics features of simple descriptive text about people based on its context, short dialogue related to simple descriptive text about people and short dialogue related to expressions of complimenting and responding to compliments as the input texts, using simple tense and vocabulary. This unit consists of 19 activities.

In unit two, the materials are related to core competence number 1, 2, 3, 4 and basic competence number 1.1, 2.3, 3.9, 4.13, and 4.14. The title of the unit is “It was really amazing!” The indicators are students are able to analyze the social purposes, text structure, linguistics features of simple recount texts about experience based on its context, comprehend the meaning of oral simple recount text, create an oral simple recount text about experience focused on the social purposes, text structure, linguistics features of simple descriptive text about people based on its context, short dialogue related to simple recount text about experience and short dialogue related to direct and indirect speech as the input texts, using past tense and vocabulary.
This unit consists of 22 activities.
In unit three, the materials are related to core competence number 1,2,3,4 and basic competence number 1.1., 2.3, 3.9, and 4.15. The title of the unit is “What a nice story!”. The indicators are students are able to analyze the social purposes, text structure, linguistics features of simple narrative text about Indonesian folklore based on its context, comprehend the meaning of oral simple narrative text, and create an oral simple narrative text about Indonesian folklore focused on the social purposes, text structure, linguistics features of simple descriptive texts about people based on its context, short dialogue related to simple narrative text about Indonesian folklore and short dialogue related to expression of asking and giving opinion as the input texts, using past continuous tense and vocabulary. This unit consists 19 activities. The complete course grid can be seen in the appendix D.

3. The Unit Design

The next step after writing the course grid was developing comic strip speaking material. The learning materials were developed into three units. Each unit was developed and sequenced using the same procedure.

Each unit has title page of the unit before the given activities. The typography of each unit has the same elements. The number of the unit is in the up-right corner of the page. The title of the unit is written under the unit number. The title is written based on the topic that were going to learn. Below the unit title, there are some pictures that illustrate activities that were going to learn by the students in the unit. Below the pictures, there is a short paragraph contained a brief description about what the students’ need to learn and to do in the unit.

The unit is made up of a number of tasks. Each unit of the developed learning materials consists 19 -22 tasks. The tasks consists listening and speaking tasks. Table 4.14 in the following describes the outline of the unit design in the developed materials.

4. The First Draft of The Materials

The first draft of the materials was developed according to the unit design described above. The materials consisted of three units in which each of them was developed based on figured below. The first draft of the material can be seen in the appendix F.

Each unit of the developed material had 19-22 tasks. The description of each task in each unit of the first draft of the materials can be seen in the appendix E. The description covers the unit title, parts of the unit, each task instruction, and brief description of each task.

5. The Expert Judgment

The next step after the researcher developed the first draft of the materials was evaluating the appropriateness of the draft according to the criteria released by BSNP (2013) for language and content and McCloud (2006) for comic illustration. The evaluation was done by materials experts. The expert judgment was done by distributing the expert judgment questionnaire to the material experts. There were two kinds of questionnaire. The first one is questionnaire for comic illustration expert and the second one is questionnaire for language and content expert. The questionnaire for comic illustration expert covered the appropriateness of comic illustration. The questionnaire for language and content expert covered four aspects which are the appropriateness of the content, the appropriateness of the language, the appropriateness of the presentation, and the appropriateness of the layout. The questionnaire can be seen in the appendix G.

a. The First Reviewer of Language and Content

The language and content expert was a lecturer of English Education Department of Yogyakarta State University.
1) The results of expert judgment unit 1

As mentioned before, the expert judgment of language and content covers four aspects namely the appropriateness of the content, the appropriateness of the language, the appropriateness of the presentation and the appropriateness of the layout.

a) The appropriateness of the content

The analysis of the content appropriateness is shown by table 4.15.

Mean 3.75
It is shown by the table 4.15 that the mean value of the appropriateness of language of the developed material was 3.75. It was categorized as “Very Good” as its positions in the interval $3.25 < \bar{x} \leq 4$.

For the appropriateness of content, there were revisions needed. The revision was that to add a guided practice before free practice, so task 14 and 16 were made as the guided practice.

b) The appropriateness of language

The analysis of the language appropriateness is shown by table 4.16.

6. The Final Draft of the Material

The Final draft of the materials had the same outline as the first draft.

The final draft was developed based on the suggestions and comments of the first draft of the materials from expert. The final draft can be seen in the appendix I.

B. Discussion

As product based research, this research aims to develop appropriate comic strips speaking learning materials for grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman. The result of this research was an appropriate comic strips speaking material for grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman. Therefore, there were several steps to make developed materials. Those are finding out target and learning needs, conducting course grid, making the first draft, expert judgments’ review, and making the final draft.

The first step before developing the materials was conducting needs analysis. In conducting needs analysis, there were two aspects would be found out. First were target needs and second was learning needs. In terms of learner needs, there were three aspects; necessity, lack, and want. For necessity, the students had purposes of studying English because they wanted to be able communicate with native speaker well, and be able to master and use grammar and vocabularies for daily life. For lack, the difficulty faced by students was related to memorizing the elements of functional text, such as describing people, telling a story or an experience. The second difficulty faced by the students was related to memorizing the pattern (formulas of the sentence) and expressing particular meaning due to the limited number of vocabulary mastery. For want, the students wanted to be able to use any kind of words, sentences, and expression to communicate after learning English, especially speaking and the students wanted to be able to use formal and informal to communicate. The students also wanted to learn English because they want to have speaking skill because it would help them in the future.

Since the materials were developed based on the comic strips, the needs analysis also examined the use of comic strips in learning materials. For input, the learners wanted topic that talked about teenagers’ daily life, to have a clear situation that would make better understanding, and to have length >50 words in the dialogue. The learners wanted comic that had various color and use Comic San MS font type. For the characters, the student wanted to have characters represented in daily life, such as teacher, students, and father. The appearance of those characters in each panels had to combine with a new character.

For the procedure, the students wanted to have a various activity in the learning process. It covered practicing dialogue, complete the missing words then practice it, role play, and share information with friends.

For the setting, the students wanted to do the task in a small group or in pairs. In doing the activity, students like doing the activity in a discussion session. It means that the material should be carried out the students to a group work and in the form of discussion. In doing the activity, the students preferred to do the activity inside the classroom.
For learner’s role, students wanted to have a role as active participants. It means that students wanted to be active learner in the learning process. They did not like to be passive participants during the learning process.

For teacher’s role, the students liked the teacher acted as a facilitator during doing the task and they liked that the teacher walks around to help students doing the tasks if there are some difficulties. It would really help them in the learning process.

After conducting needs analysis, the researchers designed course grid of the material which considered the basic competence also. The course grid covered basic competence, topic in each units of speaking book, indicators, input text, grammar and vocabulary, and activities to carry out those aspects. Then, the course grid was developed into 19 – 22 units.

The unit one of the developed materials was derived from core competence number 1,2,3,4 and basic competence number 1.1, 2.3, 3.7, 4.8, 2.9, 4.10 of English for tenth grade students. The title of unit one is “What does He Look Like?”. This unit is consisted of 19 tasks. The unit two of the developed materials was derived from core competence number 1,2,3,4 and basic competence number 1.1, 2.3, 3.9, 4.13, 4.14 of English for tenth grade students. The title of unit one is “It Was Really Exciting”. This unit is consisted of 22 tasks. The unit three of the developed materials was derived from core competence number 1,2,3,4 and basic competence number 1.1, 2.3, 3.9, 4.15 of English for tenth grade students. The title of unit one is “What a Nice Story”. This unit is consisted of 19 tasks.
After that, the materials were evaluated by distributing questionnaire to the experts. There were two kinds of experts evaluate the materials. First is expert of language and content, and second is expert of comic illustration. The items of the questionnaire were developed based on BSNP that covers 4 main points of evaluation, i.e. the appropriateness of content, the appropriateness of language, the appropriateness of graphic, the appropriateness of display, and Mc Cloud (2006) that covers comic illustration. Based on the result of the questionnaire, it could be conclude that speaking materials were appropriate with the needs of tenth grade students of SMA N 1 Sleman. It could be seen from the mean value of expert judgment questionnaire. The ranges of the mean value were 3.46 and it was categorized “very good”. As the needed revisions had been made, the materials considered as the final draft.
CHAPTER V
CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

The aim of this research is to reveal the target needs, the learning needs, and the appropriate comic strip speaking material used in grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman. This chapter describes the conclusions of the research and suggestions that the researcher proposes to other researcher and English teacher.

A. Conclusion

The conclusions in this research were drawn from the findings and discussion presented in the chapter IV aiming to answer the research questionnaire of the research. The first conclusion is related to target needs. The second conclusion is the result of the needs analysis in term of the students’ learning needs. The third conclusion is the characteristics of the developed English comic strip speaking learning material for grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman.

1. Target needs

Target needs refer to what the learners need to do in the target situation. Target needs are divided into three terms: necessity, lacks, and wants. For necessity, the students had a purpose of studying English because they wanted to be able the students to communicate with native English and the students wanted to be able to master and use grammar and vocabularies for daily life. For lack, the difficulty faced by students was because there was not any specific speaking material. The second difficulty faced by of the students was because they had limited time to practice their speaking. For want, the students wanted to be able to use any kind of words, sentences, and expression to communicate well after learning English, especially speaking and to be able using formal and informal language to communicate well. The students also wanted to learn English because they wanted to have speaking skill that would help them in the future.

2. Learning Needs

For the learning needs, the students’ view about what they should do to accomplish the target situation can be concluded in the paragraph below.

For input, the students wanted the topic of the material that had relation with daily life and teenagers, to have clear situation that would make better understanding, to have less than 50 words in the dialogue, and to use various color in the comic. For the characters, the students wanted characters that represented daily life, such as teachers, students, and parents. For the appearance, those characters in each panel had to combine with a new character.

The students wanted to have various activities in the learning process. The activities were covered practicing dialogue, completing the missing words then practice it, role play, and sharing information with friends. The students wanted to do the task in small groups or in pairs. In doing the activity, students liked doing the activity in the discussion session. It means that the material should make the students to do in a group work and in a form of discussion. For setting, the students preferred to do the activity inside the classroom. The students also wanted to have a role as an active participant. It meant that students wanted they are to be active in the learning process. They did not like to be a passive participant during the learning process. For teacher’s role, the students liked the teacher acted as a facilitator during doing the task and they liked the teacher walked around to help students doing the tasks if there were some difficulties. It would really help them in the learning process.

3. The Appropriate Speaking Materials

   Based on the results of the material evaluation, the developed materials were considered to be appropriate. The ranges of the mean value were 3.46 and it was categorized “very good”. The developed speaking materials for grade ten students of SMA N 1 Sleman have the characteristics as described in the following paragraphs.

   The learning materials were developed into three units. The unit is made up of a number of tasks. Each unit of the developed learning materials consists of 18 -22 tasks. The first part of the unit is the title of the unit. The title reflects the whole topic of the unit. There is also brief explanation about the topic of the unit to give.

   In each cycle, there are several stages. They are warming up, observing, questioning, collecting data, analyzing data, communicating, and creating. The first stage is warming up task. It is preparation task which leads students to main activities. In the observing stage, the students listen to a recording and write things that they do not know or they want to know more. In the questioning stage, students limit the items they want to know and formulate questions and propose temporary answers to their questions (based on their knowledge and/or limited information they have). In the collecting data stage, students collect data/information relevant to the questions by doing some guided tasks that lead students to answer their questions. Next is the analyzing stage. In this stage, students try to answer the questions that they have made in the questioning stage. Then, students share their answers to their friends in communicating stage. The last stage is creating. In this stage, students create texts to express thoughts/ideas. These tasks are followed by additional activities where students could learn more such as homework and evaluation.

The materials also provide activities which help students’ to do self-reflection. Reflection supports and encourage students to check how well their understanding of the lesson and to review and evaluate their roles in doing the tasks.

B. Suggestions

1. For other material developers
   a. Material developers have to develop such materials in a complete version because a single skill material is not enough to cover all of students learning needs.

   b. Material developers should be encouraged to provide self-reflection task to review and evaluate students’ ability after learning the materials.
2. For English Teachers

a. English teachers can use these materials in the learning process because this material has tested by the experts and categorized very good to be used.

b. English teachers have to provide specific material, such as speaking materials, for the student to improve all of students’ macro skills well.

(The Interview Transcript)
Lokasi : SMA N 1 Sleman   Tanggal : 19 Oktober 2013   Pukul : 09.00

Guru Bahasa Inggris kelas X yang sudah menerapkan kurikulum 2013

I : Apakah siswa mengalami kendala dalam penerapan kurikulum 2013 ini? (Q-T-1)

T : saya rasa siswa lebih enjoy di kurikulum 2013 ini, karena di kurikulum sekarang guru menyesuaikan dengan minat siswa. Jadi ketika masuk materi, saya lebih mendengarkan maunya siswa tentang apa. (A-T-1)

I : Di kurikulum 2013 ini, apa kesulitan ibu dalam mengajarkan pembelajaran bahasa inggris? (Q-T-2)

T : karena ada dua tipe silabus yaitu wajib dan peminatan, saya sendiri sebenarnya bingung apakah cara mengajar yang selama ini saya terapkan sudah sesuai belum dikarenakan belum adanya sosialisasi penerapan kurikulum 2013 ini. (A-T-2)

I : Buku apa yang ibu pakai di kurikulum 2013 ini? (Q-T-3)

T : buku Bahasa Inggris yang sudah berdasarkan kurikulum 2013 belum ada, jadi saya pakai materi dari buku apapun yang kira – kira sesuai dengan materi kurikulum 2013 dan saya juga mengambil materi dari internet. (A-T-3)

I : Kekurang dari buku ini apa yang menyebabkan kendala dalam proses belajar mengajar? (Q-T-4)

T : belum adanya buku yang relevan dengan kurikulum 2013 jadi kendalanya mencari sumber buku atau materi yang cocok untuk diterapkan di kurikulum 2013 ini. Contohnya recount text baik kurikulum 2013 atau KTSP kan tidak jauh beda, jadi saya bisa pakai materi yang lama. Tapi saya juga harus menyesuaikan dengan orientasi siswa. (A-T-4)

I : Waktu anda memakai buku ini, bagaimana respond anak? Apakah anak juga mengalami kesulitan tersendiri? (Q-T-5)

T : (dihapus karena tidak ada buku pegangan kurikulum 2013)

I : Apakah buku yang baru menyediakan materi tentang speaking yang memadai? (Q-T-6)

T : (dihapus karena tidak ada buku pegangan buku kurikulum 2013)

I : Bagaimana proses mengajar seaking dikelas? (Q-T-7)

I : Dari keempat skills yang ada, mana yang menurut ibu paling lemah? (Q-T-8)
T : Kalo siswa sih kebanyakan kesulitan di speaking sama writing tapi lebih ke speaking lah. Masalahnya mereka tu gak PD kalo harus ngomong in English di depan kelas. (A-T-8)

I : Untuk speaking skill, bagaimana kemampuan anak ? (jika tidak menyebutkan speaking) (Q-T-9)

I : Media apa yang sering anda gunakan saat mengajar materi speaking? (Q-T-10)

I : Bagaimana learner’s needs kelas X di SMA ini? (Q-T-11)

T : Kalau itu mungkin lebih kearah sampai mereka mengusai materi aja mbak tapi kalau dari merekanya sendiri saya yakin mereka beda-bedanya kebutuhannya. (A-T-11)

I : Bagaimana learners’ characteristics kelas X di SMA ini? (Q-T-12)

T : Karakteristik murid disini pokonya mereka tu harus ada kerjaan kalau cuma diem mereka bakalan cepet bosen. (A-T-12)

I : Bagaimana learning need kelas X di SMA ini? (Q-T-13)

I : Menurut ibu, materi apa yang dianggap susah oleh murid kelas X? (Q-T-14)

T : Oh itu misal Narrative text dan Recount. Mereka terkadang kesulitan dalam memahami makna dalam teks Narrative. Terus pas Recount, mereka kesulitan menuangkan idenya. Apalagi kalau harus mempresentasikan hasil kerjanya, mereka terkadang susah buat ngungkapin didepan kelas. (A-T-14)

I : Menurut ibu apakah Komik bisa digunakan untuk bahan ajar? (Q-T-15)

I : Peneliti akan membuat buku khusus speaking yang menggunakan comic strips, bagaimana pendapat anda? (Q-T-16)

T : ya bagus, cukup kreative sudah membuat RnD. Itu akan menarik buat anak. (A-T-16)

I : Apakah pernah memakai bahan / media comic strips untuk pembelajaran sebelumnya? (Q-T-17)

T : iya saya pernah menggunakankannya untuk writing. (A-T-17)
I : Apakah ada saran tentang bahan comic strips yang akan saya buat untuk murid – murid kelas X? (Q-T-18)

Lokasi: SMA N 1 Sleman Tanggal: 19 Oktober 2013 Pukul: 09.30

1st interview : Helen siswa kelas X

I : Pendapatmu tentang Bahasa Inggris? (Q-S1-1)

S : Asik kok (A-S1-1)

I : Dari keempat skills, skill mana yang paling susah untuk dikuasai? (Q-S1-2)

S : writing sama speaking karena bingung nyusun kalimatnya, takut salah mbak. (A-S1-2)

I : Kalau speaking skill kamu gimana? (Q-S1-3)

S : Enggak bagus juga mb,pasti banyak yang salah ngucapinnya, kadang bingung juga nyusun kata mau ngomong apa gt (A-S1-3)

I : Tanggapan tentang buku kurikulum 2013? (Q-S1-4)

S : Kan enggak ada bukunya mb, kalau menurutku sib susah karena suruh mencari materi sendiri karena belum ada buku yang sesuai. Enakan kurikulum sebelumnya mb yang apa-apapun sudah disediain. (A-S1-4)

I : Bagaimana kegiatan speaking di kelas mu? Apakah ada kesulitan? (Q-S1-5)

S : Biasa aja. (A-S1-5)

I : Menurutmu buku bacaan jenis apa yang sering dibaca teman-teman belakangan ini? (Q-S1-6)

S : Kalau anak-anak sih suka baca komik online mbak. Ada juga yang baca buku comic dikelas pas istirhat. (A-S1-6)

I : Apakah guru pernah memakai media gambar? (comic strips). Bagaimana pendapatmu? (Q-S1-7)

S : Pernah di laboratorium, nanti kita nonton film buat listening apa cari buku di perpustakaan. (A-S1-7)

I : Menurut kamu kalau pakai media proses pembelajarannya gimana? (Q-S1-8)

S : pakai media?menurutku pembelajarannya akan lebih masuk. (A-S1-8)
I : Kalau materi khusus speaking full gambar berseri kayak komik gitu kamu tertarik enggak? (Q-S1-9)

S : ya buat selingan aja mb biar pelajarannya g monoton. Kedengarannya asik jg.

(A-S1-9)

I : Kalau ada materi tentang speaking, maunya yang seperti apa? (Q-S1-10)

S : yang menarik aja sih mbak, biar g bosen. (A-S1-10)
2nd interview : Faisal siswa kelas X

I : Pendapatmu tentang Bahasa Inggris bagaimana? (Q-S2-1)

S : Asik – asik susah gimana gitu mb. (A-S2-1)

I : Dari keempat skills, skill mana yang paling susah untuk dikuasai? (Q-S2-2)

S : speaking mb karena kurang latihan jadi kalau mau ngomong tu takut salah grammar apa vocabnya yang kacau. (A-S2-2)

I : Tanggalan tentang buku kurikulum 2013? (Q-S2-3)

S : asik mb karena guru menyesuaikan sama topik yang kita mau, kalau yang dibahas hal yang kita suka jadi belajarnya lebih asik. Tapi g asiknya kita disuruh cari materi di bahan/sumber lain karena g ada buku paket Bahasa Inggris. (A-S2-3)

I : Bagaimana kegiatan speaking di kelas mu? Apakah ada kesulitan? (Q-S2-4)

S : ya kita sharing sih mb latihan ngomong, tapi kebanyakan baca,baca, dan baca materi mb. (A-S2-4)

I : Menurutmu buku bacaan jenis apa yang sering dibaca teman-teman belakangan ini? (Q-S2-5)

S : Paling baca manga (situs komik online) mbak hahaha. (A-S2-5)

I : Apakah guru pernah memakai media gambar? (comic strips) Bagaimana pendapatmu? (Q-S2-6)

S : belum pernah mb. (A-S2-6)

I : Menurut kamu kalau pakai media proses pembelajarannya gimana? (Q-S2-7)

S : ya mb sangat membantu mengedongkan saya hehe. (A-S2-7)

I : Kalau materi khusus speaking full gambar berseri kayak komik gitu kamu tertarik enggak? (Q-S2-8)

S : aku pribadi sih tertarik mb tapi g tau yang lain. Tapi aku sih suka mb kalau model komik buat variasi pelajaran biar g baca text terus. (A-S2-8)

I : Kalau ada materi tentang speaking, maunya yang seperti apa? (Q-S2-9)
S : ya kayak komik tadi juga asik mb biar enggak penat mb baca text terus, kan kalau komik bisa buat refreshing juga, tapi yang jelas alur harus jelas mb biar g bingung baca nya dari mana kemana, soalnya kalau komik kadang – kadang aku bingung urutan bacanya mb. (A-S2-9)

1. Does he/ she have straight hair?
2. Does he/ she have curly hair?
3. Does he/ she have slanted eyes?
4. Does he/ she have round eyes?
5. Is he/she a kind person?

Observing

Task 2

Listen to the recording between Susi, Dinda, and Santi carefully and mark the items that you want to know.

Situation: Dinda and Susi describe their English teacher for Santi because Santi is a new student in Dinda and Susi’s school.

☐ The way of the speaker describing person.
☐ The tense used by the speaker.
☐ The use of expressions of complimenting and responding to compliments.

Write more things you want to know below.

1. .................................................................
2. .................................................................
3. .................................................................
Referring to the items you want to know in Task 2, make relevant questions. Examples are provided for you.

1. How does the speaker describe a person?
2. What is the tense used by the speaker?
3. How does the speaker use of expressions of complimenting and responding to compliments?
4. .................................................................
5. ...........................................................................
6. ...........................................................................
7. ...........................................................................
8. ...........................................................................
9. ...........................................................................
10. ..........................................................................}

Listen to the recording between Susi, Dinda, and Santi again and answer the questions orally. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

- Uhm... He (...) black wavy hair and he has (...). Do you know him?
- I’m having doubt about who he is but I think he is Mr. Jojo. Please follow me. I’ll take you to him.
- Is that man you are looking for?
- Yeah. That he is. Thank you.
- Of course. I’ve caught some but it is difficult to identify which one.
- I will give some description for you sir.
- He is a Short man. He is fat. His hair is brown. His face is round. He has a wrinkle in his forehead.
- Excuse me, have you caught the thief sir?
- I think I know who he is.

Read the comic strip bellow and answer the questions orally. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.
Study the explanation about Simple Present Tense.

Simple Present Tense is the tense which you use to refer to events, actions and conditions which are happening all the time, or exist now. You may use this sentence when you want to describe people.

Formula:
- \( S + \text{is/are} + \text{Adjective} \)
- \( S + V_1(\text{es}) + \text{O} \)
- \( S + \text{has/have} + \text{O} \)

Where will we have our dinner, Dinda?

I want to have a dinner in the restaurant near the post office.

Oh, I see. By the way, I like your dress. You look beautiful with that.

It's nice of you to say so.
Study the explanation below about expressions of complimenting and responding to compliments.

- Expressions of complimenting are used to show expressions of admiration for something great (someone’s clothes style, hair style, performance, etc).
- Responding to compliments is used to say as a reaction to compliment that has been said by another person.

Read the comic strips below and answer the questions.

1. Do you have such an experience?
2. What kind of experience do you have?
3. When did it happen?
4. Where did it happen?
5. How did you feel when it happened?
Listen to Budi carefully and mark the items that you want to know.

Situation: Budi tells his friends about his experience when he went to Bandung last holiday with his family.

☐ The purpose of the speaker telling his experience to his friends.
☐ The steps of the speaker telling his experience.
☐ The tense used by the speaker.
☐ The purpose of the speaker uses connectives or conjunctions.
☐ The use of direct and indirect speech.

Write the things you want to know more below.
1. .................................................................................................................
2. .................................................................................................................
3. .................................................................................................................

Questioning

Referring to the items you want to know in Task 2, make relevant questions. Examples are provided for you.

1. What is the purpose of the speaker tells his experience to his friends?
2. What are the steps of the speaker tells his experience?
3. What is the tense used by the speaker?
4. What is the purpose of the speaker uses connectives or conjunctions?
5. How does the speaker use direct and indirect speech?
6. .................................................................................................................
7. .................................................................................................................
8. .................................................................................................................
Listen again to Budi’s speech carefully and answer the questions orally. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

1. What is the topic of the Budi’s speech?
2. What is Budi’s purpose when he tells it?
   Orientation:
3. With whom did Budi spend his holiday?
4. Where did Budi spend his holiday?
5. When did Budi spend his holiday?
6. How did Budi go there?
Events:
7. How many activities did Budi do during his Holiday?
8. List Budi’s activity when he spent his holiday.
9. Does Budi tell His experience chronologically? (give your reason)
   Reorientation:
10. How did Budi feel after his holiday?

Study the explanation about recount texts below.

The purposes of recount text are to inform and to entertain the audience about someone’s experience, so it mainly uses past tense. A recount text consists of orientation, list of events, and reorientation.

Orientation: it provides background information. It answers the questions; What?, Who?, When?, Where?, Why, and How?

List of event: it tells events chronologically. It uses conjunctions or connectives like: first, next, then, finally and so on.

Reorientation: it presents the concluding comments. It expresses the author or speaker personal opinion regarding the events described.
In pairs, read the comic strip and label the part of Mr. Jono’s speech with the appropriate answer in the boxes. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

Orientation

Last week, I went to Parangtritis beach. It is far from my house, so I went there by bus.

List of events

First, I looked for a good place to take a rest. After that I sat under a tree and enjoyed beautiful view. Then, I played in the water.

I was so tired but I was very happy.

Reorientation

In groups of four, use the information you have to answer your questions number 1 and 2 that you have made in Task 3. Present your answers and let your teacher gives feedback about your answers.

1. What is the purpose of the speaker telling his experience to his friends?
   ..................................................................................................................

2. What are the steps of the speaker telling his experience in Bandung?
   ..................................................................................................................

3. ..................................................................................................................

4. ..................................................................................................................
Situation: Dani tells Tika about his terrible accident yesterday when he went to Cihampelas with Budi.

1. What tense is used by Dani to express his experience in the comic strip above?
2. Why does Dani use such kind of tense to express his experience?
3. Mention three utterances in the comic strips above that use tense you mentioned in the question number 1.
Study the explanation about past tense below.

Past tense is used to describe an event that happened and ended in the past. You will use this tense a lot when you tell your experience. See the formula below.

Subject + V₁
Subject + was/were + Adjective

Complete the missing words using the words in the boxes. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

Situation: Dinda and Tika went to their Grandparents’ house in Bandung last month.

Last month, Tika and Dinda (1)............ to their grandparents’ house by bus.

When they (2)............, their grandpa (3).............. in the font of his house.

First, they (4) .............in the swimming pool behind the house.

Then, they (5)............ some food and (6)........... about their feeling during their holiday in grandparents' house.

Let's swim Tika

I'm very happy to be here.

Hi grandpa!

Let's go.
Read the comic strips in the Task 6 and 8 again and answer the questions orally. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

1. Do Mr. Jono and Dani tell their experience chronologically? (give your reason)
2. Do you find any conjunction or connective in their speech?
3. Mention the conjunction or connective you have found from the comic strips in Task 6 and 8.

Study the explanation about conjunction or connective below carefully.

Conjunction or connective is used to show sequence of events in order or chronologically. You will use it if you want to tell an experience. See the examples below:

<table>

Complete the comic strip below using the conjunctions in the boxes. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

Hi Dinda. Could you tell me about your holiday last week?

Sure.

Last week I felt very bored after one week of holiday. (...) I went to Toba Lake with Ratih. It’s only a hundred meters from my house. (...), we sat near the Lake. (...), we took a picture. (...), we played swing there. We were very tired but we felt happy so after that first then

Task 15

Read dialogue between Adi and Susi carefully and answer the questions orally. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

Situation: Adi and Susi are talking about information they heard.

- I heard that you have a new job, Susi. Is it true?
  - Yeah, it’s true. I’m working in the same office with Mr. Jono. How do you know that I get a new job?
  - Your sister, Santi, told me. She said that you got a new job then.
  - By the way, Tiara told me that you had got bad accident when you were in Tangkubanprahu Mountain. Can you tell me about that?
Study the explanation about direct and indirect speech below carefully.

Direct speech means someone speaks to other directly. In written form we use quotation mark ("...") to indicate it is a direct speech. We use indirect speech when we report what people said. In indirect speech, the tense usually goes ‘one step’ back.

See the example below.

Summary

In this chapter you learn:

1. Language features and generic structure of recount text
   - Recount text consist of three parts;
   - Orientation: it provides background information.
   - List of events: it tells event chronologically.
   - Reorientation: it presents the concluding comments. It expresses the author or speaker personal opinion regarding the events described.
   - Use past tense (Subject + V2 / Subject + was/were + Adjective).
   - Use conjunction/connectives; first, next, then, finally, and so on.
5. Direct and indirect speech
- Direct speech means someone speaks to other directly. In written form we use quotation mark (“...”) to indicate it is a direct speech.
- We use indirect speech when we report what people said. In indirect speech, the tense usually goes ‘one step’ back; present tense to past tense and so on.
- The change in adverbial of time and place; yesterday to the previous day and so on.

To bite off more than one can chew.
Maksud hati memeluk gunung, apa daya tangan tak sampai.

Hide one's light under a bushel.
Bagai padi, makin berisi makin merunduk.

It's no use crying over spilt milk.
Nasi sudah menjadi bubur

Kill two birds with one stone.
Sekali dayung dua tuga pulau terlampai.
Study the pictures below and answer the questions orally.

“The legend of Tangkubanprahu (Sangkuriang)”

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=aXS_uQoWcQ8

1. Have you ever heard about the story before?
2. Where does the story come from?
3. Do you like the story?
4. What do you think about the characters involved in the story?
5. Do you get some morals from the story?
Listen the conversation between Dinda and her friends carefully and mark the items that you want to know.

Situation: Dinda and her friends go camping to Tangkubanperahu Mountain. Dinda tells her friends about a legend of Tangkubanperahu.

Referring to the items you want to know in Task 2, make relevant questions. Examples are provided for you.

1. What is the purpose of the speaker tells the story?
2. What are the steps of the speaker tells the story?
3. What is the tense used by the speaker?
4. How does the speaker use the expression of asking and giving opinion?
5. ..............................................................
6. ..................................................................
7. ..............................................................
Listen to Dinda carefully again and answer the questions orally. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

1. What is Dinda’s purpose when he tells it?
   Orientation:
2. When did the story told by Dinda happen?
3. Where did the story told by Dinda happen?
4. Who are the characters involved in the story?
   Complication:
5. What are the problems faced by the characters in the story?
   (lists the problems)
   Resolution:
6. How did the character resolve the problem?

Study the explanation about narrative text below carefully.

The purpose of narrative text is to amuse or entertain the audience. There are many kinds of narrative such as legend, fable, fairytale, myth, and folktale. The differences between narrative and recount text is narrative has conflict but recount hasn’t.

Narrative text consists of orientation, complications, and resolution. Narrative text always tells past story, so it mainly uses past tense.

Orientation: it tells about the setting of the story (time, place, and characters).

Complications: it tells about problem (s) to be solved by characters.

Resolution: it tells the solution to the complication (s) and gives an ending to the story.
In pairs, complete the comic strips by using the utterances in the box. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

Task 6

a. One day, his father got angry because Samosir had eaten his food. He said "O, you are stupid and lazy boy. You are a son of a fish!". Samosir was hurt. He went home and told his mother about his father's words. Samosir's mother was shocked. She said "O Toba. You break your promise, so I cannot live with you here anymore. Now you have to accept the consequence of what you did. Samosir go to the hill and find the tallest tree then climb up".

b. Suddenly, the weather changed. Sunny day turned into heavy rain. The rain last for a week. The whole area became a big lake. Then it was called Lake Toba.

c. Toba fell in love with the girl and they got married. The girl married Toba on one condition that he would never tell anybody about her secret. Toba agreed to the condition.

d. Once upon a time in North Sumatra, in a small village, there lived a farmer named Toba.

e. Several months later, they have a son, named Samosir. Unfortunately, Samosir was a lazy boy.

f. One day, he got a big fish in the river. Then, Toba took the fish in the kitchen. Toba was very shocked when he knew that the fish turned into a beautiful girl.

Task 7

In groups of four, use the information you have to answer your questions number 1 and 2 that you have made in Task 3. Present your answers and let your teacher gives feedback about your answers.

1. What is the purpose of the speaker telling the story?
   .......................................................... ..........................................................

2. What are the steps of the speaker telling the story?
   ........................................................................................................................................

Hello Santi. Dinda told me that you knew about story of Danau Toba. Could you tell me? I need it for my assignment.

Hello Fandi. Yeah, I know that story. Don't worry I'll tell you.
Read the comic strip below and answer the questions orally. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

Do you know what Malinkundang did do to his mother when they met in the harbour?

Listen. Malinkundang was pretending did not know his mother. Malinkundang even kept ignoring his mother although his wife was advising him many times.

Tell me Dinda!

Of course I do.

1. What tense is used by Dinda to tell Malinkundang to Budi in the comic strips above?
2. Why does Dinda use the tense to tell the story?
3. How many utterances do you find which use the tense you mentioned in the number 1?

Study the explanation about past continuous tense below.

Past Continuous Tense is used to describe an action which someone was doing or an event which was happening at a particular time. It is made with ‘was’ or ‘were’ and the -ing form of a verb.

See the formula below.

Subject + was/were + Ving

Example:
1. She was wearing a cloth.
2. They were reading a book.
3. He was typing a letter.
Complete the missing words using the words in the box. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

1. Dayang Sumbi was (...) in the kitchen.
2. Sangkuriang (...) hunting in the wood.
3. (...) were running in the middle of the forest.
4. (...) was walking to his farm.
5. Malinkundang and his crew (...) in the ocean.

a. cooking
b. was
c. they
d. Toba
e. were sailing

Read dialogue between Adi and Dinda carefully and answer the questions orally. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

Situation: Adi and Dinda are talking about their opinion about stories, Malinkundang and Sangkuriang (Tangkubanprahu)

I think that story is not true. The purpose is to give advice to children.

Well, I agree with you. In my opinion, such stories are mainly only fiction. That is not real.

Yeah. By the way, what are your views about the moral values of Sangkuriang?

What do you think about the story of Malinkundang? Is it true or not?

My own view of the matter of Sangkuriang's moral values is you have to be an honest person. Because when you are lying, you will continue to lie to cover up your lies.

That's right. I do agree with you Dinda.

1. Do you find any differences between underlined and bold utterances?
2. Have you ever said such underlined or bold utterances before?
3. When do you use the underlined utterances?
4. When do you use the bold utterances?
Study the explanation about expressions of asking and giving opinion below carefully.

- Expressions of asking opinion are used to ask someone’s opinion/belief about something.
- Expressions of giving opinion are used to give personal’s opinion about something.

APPENDIX H

(The Result of Expert Judgment)
APPENDIX I

(The Final Draft of Developed Materials)
1. Does he/ she have straight hair?
2. Does he/ she have curly hair?
3. Does he/ she have slanted eyes?
4. Does he/ she have round eyes?
5. Is he/she a kind person?

Situation: Dinda and Susi describe their English teacher for Santi because Santi is a new student in Dinda and Susi’s school.

- The way the speaker describes a person.
- The tense used by the speaker.
- The use of expressions of complimenting and responding to compliments.

Write the things you want to know more below.
1. .................................................................
2. .................................................................
3. .................................................................
Referring to the items you want to know in Task 2, make relevant questions. Examples are provided for you.

1. How does the speaker describe a person?
2. What is the tense used by the speaker?
3. How does the speaker use the expressions of complimenting and responding to compliments?
4. .................................................................
5. ........................................................................
6. ........................................................................

1. What does their teacher’s hair look like?
2. What does their teacher’s nose look like?
3. What do their teacher’s eyes look like?
4. What is the color of their teacher’s skin?
5. Is their teacher tall?
6. Which statement shows your answer (number 5)?
7. Is their teacher young?
8. Which statement shows your answer (number 7)?
9. Is their teacher a humorous person?
10. Which statement shows your answer (number 9)?
Study the explanation about how to describe a person.

Task 5

Describing person means to say or write what someone is like.

There are many ways to describe people such as:

a. \( S + \text{ has } + \text{ adjective noun phrase} \) (she has curly hair)

b. \( S + \text{ to be } + \text{ a/an } + \text{ adjective noun phrase} \) (he is a smart boy)

c. Possessive noun phrase + to be + adjective (her nose is pointed) and so on.

Task 6

Complete the missing words by using the words in the boxes. Share your answer to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

Situation: Sandi is looking for Mr. Jono in the office but Sandi doesn’t know where Mr. Jono is. So Sandi asks to Dinda.

Excuse me, Dinda. I’m looking for Mr. Jono. Do you know where he is?

I’m sorry. I never hear that name before. Can you tell me more about him?

Sure. He’s a (...). He’s (...) and he (...) a humorous man.

Frankly, I don’t know who he is. Can you give more specific descriptions about him?
Situation: Mrs. Vika is checking the thief who stole her car yesterday in the police station but the officer has difficulties to identify the thief. So Mrs. Vika helps the officer by giving some description about the thief’s physical appearance.

Excuse me, have you caught the thief sir?

I doubt whether he is Mr. Jojo or not. Please follow me. I’ll take you to him.

Is that the man you are looking for?

Yeah. That he is. Thank you

Of course. I’ve caught some but it is difficult to identify which one.

I will give some description for you sir.

Ok follow me ma’am.

He’s a short man. He’s fat. His hair is brown. His face is round. He has a wrinkle in his forehead.

I think I know who he is.
Study the explanation about Simple Present Tense.

Simple Present Tense is the tense which you use to refer to events, actions and conditions which are happening all the time, or exist now. You may use this sentence when you want to describe people.

Formula:

\begin{align*}
S + & \text{is/are } + \text{ Adjective} \\
S + & V_1(\text{es}) + O \\
S + & \text{has/have} + O
\end{align*}
\]

Examples:
1. She is an energetic girl.
2. He is tall.

Task 8

Fill in the blank by using the words in the boxes. Share your answer to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

1. He is a clever (.................).
2. She has a (.................) nose.
3. She (.................) curly hair
4. (.................) is green.

Read the dialogue between Edo and Dinda carefully and answer the questions orally. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

1. Do you find any differences between the underlined and bold utterances?
2. Have you ever said such bold utterances before?
3. When do you use the bold utterances?

Study the explanation below about expressions of complimenting and responding to compliments.

Expressions of complimenting are used to show expressions of admiration for something great (someone’s clothes style, hair style, performance, etc).

Responding to compliments is used to say as a reaction to compliment that has been said by other person.
Expressions of complimenting
- What a …!
- That’s a very nice …
- I like your …
- You’re looking good.
- You look cute with that shirt.

Responding to compliments
- Thanks.
- Oh, not really.
- It’s nice of you to say so.
- How kind of you to say so.
- Thank you for saying so.
- Thank you.

Match the comic strips with the correct expression of complimenting.

- Hurray! Finally I win.
- You get 100 on your test.
- She is the champion of the national swimming competition.
- Your dress is new, isn’t it?

- a. “You are looking good with that dress.”
- b. “You are great of winning this competition.”
- c. “You are the best swimmer.”
- d. “What a great score!”
Complete the dialogue by using the expressions in the boxes. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

Complete the comic strips below. Present your answers and let your friends and teacher give comments.

A. Situation: Bayu’s bike is stolen by someone. He reports it to an officer. The officer asks Bayu to be patient because it is difficult to find the thief if there is no witness. Fortunately, Dani saw someone who stole Budi’s bike. So he describes the physical appearance to easier indicate the thief.
B. Situation: Santi gets lost in the beach and make Susi worrying about it. Susi asks the life guard to help her.

Oh my God, where is Santi?

Excuse me, Sir. My sister's missing.

Ok, please describe her.

I think that is your sister.

“TONGUE TWISTER”
Please read the text below as fast as you can.

1. I saw Susie sitting in a shoe shine shop.

2. A big black bug bit the big black bear, but the big black bear bit the big black bug back.

3. I bought a bit of baking powder and baked a batch of biscuits. I brought a big basket of biscuits back to the bakery and baked a basket of big biscuits. Then I took the big basket of biscuits and the basket of big biscuits and mixed the big biscuits with the basket of biscuits that was next to the big basket and put a bunch of biscuits from the basket into a biscuit mixer and brought the basket of biscuits and the box of mixed biscuits and the biscuit mixer to the bakery and opened a tin of sardines.
Read the comic strips below and answer the questions.

1. Do you have such an experience?
2. What kind of experience do you have?
3. When did it happen?
4. Where did it happen?
5. How did you feel when it happened?
Listen to Budi carefully and mark the items that you want to know.

Situation: Budi tells his friends about his experience when he went to Bandung last holiday with his family.

1. The purpose of the speaker tells his experience to his friends.
2. The steps of the speaker tell his experience.
3. The tense used by the speaker.
4. The purpose of the speaker uses connectives or conjunctions.
5. The use of direct and indirect speech.

Write more things you want to know below.
1. .................................................................................................................
2. .................................................................................................................
3. .................................................................................................................

Referring to the items you want to know in Task 2, make relevant questions. Examples are provided for you.

1. What is the purpose of the speaker telling his experience to his friends?
2. What are the steps of the speaker telling his experience?
3. What is the tense using by the speaker?
4. What is the purpose of the speaker using connectives or conjunctions?
5. How does the speaker using direct and indirect speech?
6. .................................................................................................................
7. .................................................................................................................
8. .................................................................................................................
Listen again to Budi carefully and answer the questions orally. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

1. What is the topic of Budi’s speech?
2. What is Budi’s purpose when he tells it?
   Orientation:
3. With whom did Budi spend his holiday?
4. Where did Budi spend his holiday?
5. When did Budi spend his holiday?
6. How did Budi go there?

Events:
7. How many activities did Budi do during his Holiday?
8. List Budi’s activity when he spent his holiday.
9. Does Budi tell his experience chronologically? (give your reason)
   Reorientation:
10. How did Budi feel after his holiday?

Study the explanation about recount texts below.

The purposes of recount text are to inform and to entertain the audience about someone’s experience, so it mainly uses past tense. A recount text consists of orientation, list of events, and reorientation.

Orientation: it provides background information. It answers the questions; What?, Who?, When?, Where?, Why, and How?

List of event: it tells events chronologically. It uses conjunctions or connectives like: first, next, then, finally and so on.

Reorientation: it presents the concluding comments. It expresses the author or speaker personal opinion regarding the events described.
In pairs, read the comic strip and label the part of Mr. Jono’s speech with the appropriate answer in the boxes. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

Orientation

- Last week, I went to Bandung Sport Center. I went there by plane. I took a flight from Adisoetjipto Air Port.

List of events

- First, I went to skateboard park. There were many people played their skate board.
- After that, I went to a famous golf field. The ticket was so expensive.
- Finally, I went to Boxing stadium. I watched a great match there.
- I was so tired but it was really exciting.

Reorientation

In groups of four, use the information you have to answer your questions number 1 and 2 that you have made in Task 3. Present your answers and let your teacher gives feedback about your answers.

1. What is the purpose of the speaker telling his experience to his friends?
   .................................................................

2. What are the steps of the speaker telling his experience in Bandung?
   .................................................................
Read the comic strips below and answer the questions orally. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

Situation: Dani tells Tika about his terrible accident yesterday when he went to Cihampelas with Budi.

1. What tense is used by Dani to express his experience in the comic strip above?
2. Why does Dani use such kind of tense to express his experience?
3. Mention three utterances in the comic strips above that use tense you mentioned in the question number 1.

1. I almost bit by the dog last holiday.
2. Really? Ok tell me please.
3. Of course. Last holiday, I went around Cihampelas.
4. What happen after that?
5. First, we bought some shirts and trousers in the famous factory outlet. Then, we had lunch in the food court. The meal was very delicious. Finally, when we walked on the street, there was a dog that wanted to bite us so we ran as fast as we could.
6. Yeah, I don't want to get such accident anymore.
7. It was very terrible. You might get hurt if the dog bit you.
Study the explanation about past tense below.

Past tense is used to describe an event that happened and ended in the past. You will use this tense a lot when you tell your experience. See the formula below.

In this chapter you learn:

1. Language features and generic structure of recount text
   - Recount text consist of three parts;
     - Orientation: it provides background information.
     - List of events: it tells event chronologically.
     - Reorientation: it presents the concluding comments. It expresses the author or speaker personal opinion regarding the events described.
   - Use past tense (Subject + V2 / Subject + was/were + Adjective).
   - Use conjunction/connectives; first, next, then, finally, and so on.
5. Direct and indirect speech

- Direct speech means someone speaks to other directly. In written form we use quotation mark (“...”) to indicate it is a direct speech.
- We use indirect speech when we report what people said. In indirect speech, the tense usually goes ‘one step’ back; present tense to past tense and so on.
- The change in adverbial of time and place; yesterday to the previous day and so on.

   Orientation:
2. When did the story told by Adi happen?
3. Where did the story told by Adi happen?
4. Who are the characters involved in the story?
   Complication:
5. What are the problems faced by the characters in the story?
   (lists the problems)
   Resolution:
6. How did the character resolve the problem?

Task 5

Study the explanation about narrative text below carefully.

The purpose of a narrative text is to amuse or entertain the audience. There are many kinds of narratives such as legends, fables, fairytales, myths, and folktales. The differences between narrative and recount text is narrative has conflict but recount does not.

A narrative text consists of orientation, complications, and resolution. A narrative text always tells past story, so it mainly uses past tense.

Orientation: it tells about the setting of the story (time, place, and characters).

Complications: it tells about problem (s) to be solved by characters.

Resolution: it tells the solution to the complication (s) and gives an ending to the story.

Read the dialogue between Adi and Dinda carefully and answer the questions orally. Share your answers to your friends and let your friends and teacher give comments.

Situation: Adi and Dinda are talking about their opinion about stories, Malin Kundang and Sangkuriang (Tangkubanprahu)

What do you think about the story of MalinKundang? Is it true or not?

I think that story is not true. The purpose is to give advice to children.

Well, I agree with you. In my opinion, such stories are mainly only fiction. That is not real.

Yeah. By the way, what are your views about the moral values of Sangkuriang?

My own view of the matter of Sangkuriang’s moral values is that you have to be an honest person. Because when you are lying, you will continue to lie to cover up your lies.

That’s right. I do agree with you Dinda.

Summary

In this chapter you learn:

1. Generic structure is the part of text. Narrative text consists of orientation, complications, and resolution. Narrative text always tells past story, so it mainly uses past tense.
   - Orientation: it tells about the setting of the story (time, place, and characters).
   - Complications: it tells about problem (s) to be solved by characters.
   - Resolution: it tells the solution to the complication (s) and gives an ending to the story.

2. Past Continuous Tense is used to describe an action which someone was doing or an event which was happening at a particular time. It is made with 'was' or 'were' and the -ing form of a verb.
3. Expressions of asking and giving opinion

- Expressions of asking opinion are used to ask someone’s opinion/belief about something.
- Expressions of giving opinion are used to give personal’s opinion about something.

Joke Corner

A: Aren't you wearing your wedding ring on the wrong finger?
B: Yes I am, I married the wrong woman.

Teacher: Today, we’re going to talk about the tenses. Now, if I say "I am beautiful," which tense is it?
Student: Obviously it is the past tense.
