ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In the name of Allah, the Most Gracious and the Most Merciful. All praises are due to Allah SWT for His blessings and companions, so that I could accomplish this thesis.

First of all, I would like to express my gratitude for my supervisor, Siti Sudartini, M.A., for the guidance, corrections, help, suggestions and support during the process of this thesis. I would like to express my gratitude to Ari Purnawan, M.Pd, M.A. for his kindness to validate my writing materials. Thanks are also due to my lecturers of the English Education Department of Yogyakarta State University who taught me.

I also would like to express my greatest appreciation to my beloved family: my father (Priharyanta), my mother (Sri Rahajeng), and my sister (Eka Putri Haryanti). This thesis would have never been completed without their encourage and support.

A big thanks also addressed to my friends of English Education Study Program of UNY 2011 especially my classmates (PBI H 2011) for the support, care, and motivation. Thank you so much all your warm friendship.

I realize that this thesis is far from being perfect. Therefore, any criticisms and suggestions for the improvement of this thesis are greatly appreciated.

ABSTRACT

The objectives of this study were: (1) to identify the learners' needs for eighth grade students of SMP N 3 Tempel, (2) to develop appropriate materials for eighth grade students of SMP N 3 Tempel.

This was a Research and Development (R&D) study. The subjects of the study were the students of eighth grade of SMP N 3 Tempel. The research procedures, were adapted from Jolly and Bolitho's model in Tomlinson (1998) with some modifications, consisting of conducting the need analysis, writing the course grid, developing the first draft, getting expert judgment and evaluating the first draft, also revising the first draft of the materials. The instruments to collect the data were need analysis questionnaire and expert judgment questionnaire. The data from the need analysis were analyzed quantitatively using frequency and percentage, then the results were used to develop the course grid. The data from the expert judgment were analyzed quantitatively through descriptive statistics while the suggestions were used to revise the first draft of the materials.

The product of this study is a set of writing materials entitled "Guide for Writing" for students of eighth grade of SMP N 3 Tempel. The writing materials consist of three units, "My Best Friend", "My Unforgettable Experience", and "My Favorite Story". Each unit consists of Pre-writing, Drafting, Responding, and Editing tasks ranging from 15-17 tasks. Based on the research findings from the expert judgment, the whole aspects of the developed materials were 3.62 which was in the range of $3.25 < x \leq 4$ and can be categorized as "very good".

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

This chapter focuses on the background of the study, identification of the problems, limitation of the problems, formulation of the problems, objectives of the research, and significance of the research.

A. Background of the Study

Students often think that communication is only being built from spoken language. It can be said that they can communicate in English if they have ability in speaking. In fact, communication also can be created by written language. Written language is also important to communicate as well as spoken language. Nowadays, writing skill has an important role. In the modern era, we use the written communication almost every day. Text message, email, blogs, social media post are some examples of using written language that often used in daily activities.

Writing as a communication device is not only the reason why writing is important to learn. Raimes (1983: 3) proposes the most important reason writing helps students learn. Why writing is important. He mentions that: First, writing reinforces student's grammatical structure, idioms and vocabulary. Second, when students write, they have a chance to express what they have already learnt. Third, students become involve in new language when they are writing. They will discover something new to write or a new way to express their ideas.

Among the four skills of learning English, writing is considered the most difficult skills to learn because students have to put their own ideas, develop their ideas, how to arrange their ideas into good sentences, how to make their writing cohesion and coherence, etc. Bell and Burnaby in Nunan (1989: 36) state that writing is considered as a complex activity because writers have to control content, format, sentence structure, vocabulary, punctuation, spelling and letter formation.

Materials are one of the ways to improve students' writing ability. The use of suitable materials will help students to learn writing in a good way. In the teaching-learning process, teachers have to develop the appropriate materials for students to encourage them to improve their ability in writing. However, the use of materials in the classroom is not interesting for students. The teacher only used LKS (Lembar Kerja Siswa) in the teaching learning process. Students feel bored to do the assignments because it only answers the questions from the texts. It does not give students a motivation to write. Therefore, it is necessary for the teacher to design interesting materials. The materials should provide students' needs and interest. Materials are useful to make students easier to catch the subject.

However, students' writing competence is relatively low. Based on the researcher's observation on the practice of teaching in SMP N 3 Tempel, students of the eighth grade of SMP N 3 Tempel have some problems related to their writing skill. First, students get problems in developing their ideas in writing a text. They feel confused to start writing and in the middle of writing they do not know what they have to do to continue. Second, they found difficulties in choosing the words that suitable for their writing because they have lack of vocabulary. The other problem is the use of grammar. They feel confused dealing with the use of grammar. They are not being able to make a text in correct sentences. They still have some mistakes using the grammar. In arranging sentences, they still have some mistakes in the use of punctuation, spelling and capitalization.

In Indonesia, English is the foreign language that the first taught in the junior high school level. In the eighth grade, students have many activities in writing some kinds of text. The standard of competences of writing texts which should be mastered by eighth grade students are responding the meaning of short functional texts and simple essays in the form of descriptive, recount, and narrative texts in daily life context.

Therefore, it is necessary to provide suitable and interesting materials for students of the eighth grade of SMP N 3 Tempel to encourage them to practice writing. For the reasons above, the researcher is interested to develop writing materials for students of the eighth grade of SMP N 3 Tempel.

B. Identification of the Problems

Based on the background of the problem, there are some problems related to the teaching-learning process in SMP N 3 Tempel. They are:

The first problem is students cannot develop their own ideas in writing a text. Students feel confused to start their writing and in the middle of writing they do not know what they have to do to continue it. Students often get stuck in the middle of their writing.

The second problem is students have lack of vocabulary. They feel confused to write because they do not have enough vocabulary to create their writing. Most of them do not bring a dictionary so it is hard for them to write. Students also find some difficulties in choosing the words that suitable for their writing.

The third problem is the use of grammar. Students are not being able to make a text in correct sentences. They still have some mistakes using the grammar. Sometimes, students feel worried in writing a text because they do not master the use of grammar. Some of them are afraid to get mistakes of the use of grammar in their writing.

The fourth problem is how to make a writing cohesion and coherence well. It is not easy for students to write in a good cohesion and coherence. Students get confused with the use of conjunctions in arranging among sentences.

The fifth problem is how materials can improve students' writing ability. In the teaching-learning process, teachers need to develop the appropriate materials for students. By developing materials, it is expected to improve students' writing ability.

C. Limitation of the Problems

Based on the discussion in the background of the study and identification of the problems, this research will be limited into fulfilling the need of writing materials of eighth grade of Junior high school. It is because having ability to communicate in English using written language is important as spoken language. Considering that writing is important but students' writing skill is relative low, the researcher provides writing materials to help students in mastering writing. In conclusion, the researcher is going to conduct a research on "Developing Writing Materials for the Eighth Grade Students of SMP N 3 Tempel."

D. Formulation of the Problems

In line with the limitation of the problems before, the formulation of the problems in this research are:

1. What are the learners' needs of the eighth grade students of SMP N 3 Tempel?
2. What are the characteristics of appropriate materials for the eighth grade students of SMP N 3 Tempel?

E. Objectives of the Research

Based on the formulation of the problems above, the objectives of the problem are:

1. To identify the learners' needs for the eighth grade students of SMP N 3 Tempel.
2. To develop appropriate materials for the eighth grade students of SMP N 3 Tempel.

F. Significance of the Research

The study is expected to give contributions to:

1. The teacher

This research can encourage the teacher to develop writing materials in the teaching learning process based on the learners' need.

2. The students

Students are expected to develop their writing ability by using these materials.

3. The other researchers

This research is aimed to be a reference for them and help to develop their research in the future

CHAPTER II

LITERATURE REVIEW AND CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

As stated in the previous chapter, the aim of this research is to develop writing materials for students of the eighth grade of SMP N 3 Tempel. In this chapter, there are some theories related to this research. This chapter focuses on the nature of writing, teaching writing, teaching writing for Junior High School students and material development.

A. Literature Review

1. Writing

Some theories related to the nature of writing will be discussed below. There are five parts in this discussion; they are the definition of writing, characteristics of writing, micro-skills of writing, approaches of teaching writing and text type. Those will be explained as follows.

a. The Nature of Writing

English is divided into two skills; they are productive skills and receptive skills. One of productive skills in English teaching-learning process is writing. There are some definitions of writing according to some experts.

Brown (2000: 335) assumes that written language is like spoken language, the difference between them is in graphics instead of auditory signals. Written language called the graphic representation of spoken language.

Solokik (2003) states three definitions of writing. First, writing is the physical and mental act. Writing is the physical act because of the activities, whether writing or typing ideas. Furthermore, writing is the mental act because the activities of writing are to develop ideas and how to arrange into sentences that the reader can catch easily. Second, the purpose of writing is how to express and impress ideas from the writer to the reader. Third, writing is a process and product.

Hibbard and Wagner (2013: 56) define writing as a process of learning through constructing complete thoughts on the paper. Writing is the process of the thinking about what is read and then translate into the process of writing.

In conclusion, writing is one of the productive skills. Writing is an act in the graphic signal language to express the ideas into sentences to inform the readers.

b. Characteristics of Writing

There are some characteristics of written language according to Brown (2001: 341). They are:

a. Permanence

Written language is permanent because it can be read in many times. To increase students' confidence in writing, the teacher can help them to revise their product.

b. Production time

Written language needs more times to achieve the final product. The problem is in educational context, students only have limited time. In addition, the teacher should train students to be a good writer in dealing with the limited times.

c. Distance

One of the problems from written language is the distance between the writers and the readers. Each people have different interpretations so the writers need to read their own text from the readers' perspective.

d. Orthography

There are various mechanics used in written language from simple to the complex.

e. Complexity

The complexity of written language is students have to learn how to make a clear illustration. They have to learn how to avoid redundancy, how to arrange sentences and how to revise a text.

f. Vocabulary

Written language has richer vocabulary than spoken language. Students have to choose the appropriate words to make a certain text.

g. Formality

There are some rules that students have to follow in writing texts, especially in academic writing. It is the most difficult activity for students because they have to follow more complex rules than the other types.

c. Micro-skills of Writing

In order to reach the goal, there are some micro-skills that have to be learned by students. Brown (2000: 343) lists some micro skills of writing that should be master by the learners, those are:

- a. Produce graphemes and orthographic patterns of English.
- b. Produce writing at an efficient rate of speed to suit the purpose.
- c. Produce an acceptable core of words and use appropriate word order patterns.
- d. Use acceptable grammatical systems (e.g., tenses, agreement, pluralization), patterns, and rules.
- e. Express a particular meaning in different grammatical forms.
- f. Use cohesive devices in written discourse.
- g. Appropriately accomplish the communicative functions of written texts according to form and purpose.
- h. Convey links and connections between events and communicate such relations as main idea, supporting idea, new information, given information, generalization and exemplification.
- i. Distinguish between literal and implied meanings when writing.
- j. Correctly convey culturally specific references in the context of the written text.
- k. Develop and use a battery of writing strategies, such as accurately assessing the audience's interpretation, using prewriting devices, writing with fluency in the first draft, using paraphrase and synonyms, soliciting peer and instructor feedback, and using feedback for revising and editing.

d. Text Type

In writing, there are some texts that should be taught by the teacher. According to Brown (2001: 302), some types of written text are nonfiction, fiction, letters, greeting cards, diaries, journal, memos, message, announcements, newspaper, academic writing, forms, application, questionnaire, directions, labels, signs, bills, map, manuals, menus, schedule, advertisements, invitations, directories and comic strips.

Hedge in McDonough and Shaw (2003: 200) states types of writing as written in this following table:

Table 1: Types of Writing by Hedge in McDonough and Shaw

Personal Writing	Public Writing	Creative Writing
Diaries Journals Shopping lists Reminders for oneself Packing list Addresses Recipes	Letters of – enquiry – complaint – request Form filling Application (for membership)	Poems Stories Rhymes Drama Songs Autobiography
Social Writing	Study Writing	Institutional Writing
Letters Invitations Notes – of condolence – of thanks – of congratulations Cablegrams Telephone messages Instructions – to friends – to family	Making notes while reading Taking notes from lectures Making a card index Summaries Synopses Reviews Report of – experiments – workshops – visit Essays Bibliographies	Agendas Posters Minutes Instruction Memoranda Speeches Reports Application Reviews Curriculum vitae Contracts Specification Business letters Role-making (Doctors and other professionals) Public notices Advertisement

In conclusion, there are many texts types that can be used by the teacher to teach writing for students. Based on the Curriculum 2006, students of the eighth grade of junior high school learn how to write descriptive text, recount text and narrative text.

2. Teaching Writing

Some theories related to teaching writing are discussed in the following. There are four parts in this discussion; they are approaches of writing, designing writing techniques, the teacher's roles of teaching writing and types of writing classroom performances.

a. Approaches of Teaching Writing

Harmer (2007:259) says there are some approaches in teaching writing. The teacher should choose the suitable approach for the students. The most popular approaches are product approach and process approach.

1) Product –Oriented Approach

In teaching writing, this approach only focuses on the product of writing. Harmer (2007: 257) states that the teacher is only interested to the aim of the task and in the end of the product. In line with Harmer, Nunan (1991:86) says product-oriented approach only focuses in the end of the teaching-learning process. In addition, Brown (2000:335) explains when the teacher only focuses on the final product of writing, the compositions are supposed to (a) meet certain standards of prescribed English rhetorical style (b) reflect accurate grammar and (c) be organized in conformity with what the audience would consider to be conventional.

2) Process Approach

Harmer (2001: 259) says there are some approaches in teaching writing. The teacher should choose the suitable approach for the students. In term of writing, it is not only considered about product but also the process of writing. White and

Arndt in Harmer (2001: 256) state that there are some stages of the process of writing; they are:

- 1) Drafting
- 2) Structuring
- 3) Reviewing
- 4) Focusing
- 5) Generating ideas and Evaluation

Hedge in McDonough and Shaw (2003: 163) suggests the stages of writing as follows:

- 1) Getting ideas together
- 2) Planning and outlining
- 3) Making notes
- 4) Making a first draft
- 5) Revising, redrafting
- 6) Editing

In line with Byrne's steps (in McDonough and Shaw, 2003: 164), they are :

- 1) Listing ideas
- 2) Making an outline
- 3) Writing a draft
- 4) Correcting and improving the draft
- 5) Writing the final version

Following Hedge's steps, they can be reduced into three steps for teaching purposes, as follows:

- 1) Pre-writing
- 2) Drafting and redrafting
- 3) Editing the pre-final version

Seow in Richards and Renandya (2002: 316-319) explains the six steps in writing process:

- 1) Planning (Pre-writing)

Pre-writing is activities to encourage students to get ideas before starting writing. There are some activities that the teacher can do to stimulate students to get ideas or information. They are

- Group brainstorming

Students are divided into some groups to give a piece of their mind about the topic with their group members. There are no correct or wrong answers in this activity.

- Clustering

The teacher gives stimulus for students. They form words related to the stimulus. It helps students to give them opportunities to say what they cannot say.

- Rapid Free Writing

In one or two minutes, the teacher gives students time to write about a certain topic. What the students want to write, they can write it rapidly.

- WH-Question

Students generate who, why, what, where, when, and how questions about the topic.

- Others

The teachers can give others sources such as printed materials, videos, or films to motivate students in writing.

2) Drafting

In this stage, students only focus on the fluency of writing and they are not preoccupied with grammatical accuracy or the neatness of the draft. A good writer has to understand the readers, how a good visualize in their writing are.

3) Responding

After drafting a text, students can get responds from the teacher or peers. It is the important role to make the implementation of writing process successful. Responding can be oral or written. The false response occurs when the teacher gives it in the final stage; however it makes nothing to do for students.

4) Revising

After responding stage, students revise their text based on the feedback given. It is used for checking the communication between both the writer and the reader whether the readers understand the meaning of the text or not. Revising is not only checking the language error but also the language used in the text whether the written texts is already clear enough to the reader, and the content and the organization of ideas do not propose ambiguity.

5) Editing

In this stage, students are engaged in tidying up their text before evaluated by the teacher. Students correct their grammar, punctuation, diction, sentence structure, and accuracy of the text.

6) Evaluating

The teacher evaluates students' work. The scoring of writing can be analytical or holistic. The criteria of evaluating should be known before. The criteria should include overall interpretation of the task, the sense of audience, the relevance, the development, and the organization of ideas, the layout, the grammatical system, the spelling and punctuation, the range and appropriateness of vocabularies, and the clarity of communication.

On the other hand, Shin in Brown (2000: 335) says that there are some steps of the process approach that are usually done. These are:

- 1) Focus on the process of writing that leads to the final written product
- 2) Help student writers to understand their own composing process
- 3) Help them to build repertoires of strategies for prewriting, drafting, and rewriting
- 4) Give students time to write and rewrite
- 5) Place central importance on the process of revision
- 6) Let students discover what they want to say as they write
- 7) Give students feedback throughout the composing process (not just on the final product) as they attempt to bring their expression closer and closer to intention
- 8) Encourage feedback from both the instructor and peers
- 9) Include individual conferences between teacher and student during the process of composition.

Writing is an act to develop ideas and arrange them into sentences. To get a better product, the teacher should focus on the process of the writing. It is similar with McDonough and Shaw's opinion (2003), they say that students are not writers but language learners; it will not be helpful if the teacher makes them write alone and only get the product. Students need comments and supports from the teacher to develop their writing skill. McDonough and Shaw (2003: 164) state that writing is the triangle activities of communicating, composing and crafting.

Process of writing is important to develop students' writing. The steps of the writing process will be used in this study are adapted from some experts. They are:

- 1) Pre-writing

The first stage to make students easier to write is by encouraging students to list their ideas. Students have to list their own ideas about what they will develop in their writing. To stimulate students' ideas, some activities will be given.

2) Drafting

After listing ideas, students can make their first draft of the writing. Students can develop their ideas into paragraphs.

3) Responding

From the first draft, students will get some feedback from the teacher and peer so they can edit their writing. In this stage, students practice in correcting their peers' work to make their writing better.

4) Editing

The last stage is editing. After the students are given feedback from their teacher and peer, students re-write their work into a good writing.

b. Designing Writing Techniques

In teaching writing, designing classroom techniques is the duty of the teacher to make the teaching-learning process run smoothly. Raimes (1983: 13) lists some questions that help the teacher to design the classroom and what he/she has to do in the classroom.

- a. How can writing help learn their second language better?
- b. How can I find enough topics?
- c. How can I help make the subject matter meaningful?
- d. How are the students going to work together in the classroom?
- e. How much time should I give my students for their writing?
- f. What do I do about error?

Brown (2001: 346) also proposes some principles in designing writing techniques. They are:

- a. Incorporate practices of "good" writers
- b. Balance process and product
- c. Account for cultural/literary background
- d. Connect reading and writing
- e. Provide as much as authentic writing as possible
- f. Frame your techniques in term of prewriting, drafting, and revising stage.

- g. Strive to offer techniques that are as interactive as possible
- h. Sensitively apply methods of responding to and correcting your students writing
- i. Clearly instruct students on rhetorical, formal conventions of writing

In conclusion, to design writing activities in the classroom, the teacher has to pay attention to the principles above. Those principles will guide the teacher to design the teaching learning process.

c. The Teachers' Roles of Teaching Writing

The most important point in teaching writing is the role of the teacher. In the classroom, the role of the teacher is not only teaching the students but she/he also has to understand what students' needs. According to Solokik (2003), there are four principles that the teacher should do in teaching writing.

First, the teacher has to understand the students' reasons for writing. The important thing for writing instruction is to match the teacher's goal and the student's. If both teacher and students have the same goal, students do not feel the teacher force them.

Second, the teacher should provide many opportunities for students to write. In teaching writing, the teacher should calculate time to spend for reading, talking about writing and writing itself. Improving writing is almost with practice and the teacher should provide different types of writing.

Third, the teacher should make helpful and meaningful feedback for the students. Giving feedback is a strategy to make students' writing better but sometimes, students do not understand the feedback that the teacher made.

Further, the important thing of this is students understand the meaning of teacher's comments.

The last is the teacher should clarify for her/himself, and for the students, how their writing will be evaluated. The teacher and students should have an agreement how the writing will be evaluated.

On the other hand, Harmer (2001: 261) proposes some roles for teacher in teaching writing that are motivator, resource and feedback provider.

a. Motivator

Motivation is the power that encourages someone to do something. Harmer (2005: 51) divides motivation into two based on the factors which are intrinsic motivation and extrinsic motivation. Intrinsic motivation is motivation which comes from the inside of the individual. It means that students' motivation comes from themselves. Their desirability to learn depends on themselves. Extrinsic motivation is motivation which is caused by external factors. For examples are the environment, rewards, the materials and others.

In teaching writing, one of the principle roles for teacher is as a motivator for the students. To motivate students' ability in writing, there are some points that the teacher can do, those are: the teacher should make a good condition for students to develop students' ideas, encourage students' effort and design meaningful activities for students.

b. Resource

Students need the teacher as a resource. In the teaching writing, teacher should be a resource that gives students some information and knowledge that students' need. When students are looking for something, the teacher is one of the most important resources they have. The teacher also can give advices, suggestions, and comments to develop students' writing.

c. Feedback provider

The last teacher's role in teaching writing is as a feedback provider. Giving feedback is one of the ways to encourage students' writing. The way the teacher gives meaningful feedback based on students' need and different written tasks. Feedback can make students to write better than before. Harmer (2001: 109) suggests two techniques in written feedback.

Responding is the first device to give students feedback. Rather than assessing the students' writing, it is better to give students responds for their work. The teacher's responds will show how the text is and what the students can do to develop their work. The teacher should think how her/his comments will improve the students' work. The comments given by the teacher must be helpful for students and not censorious.

The second device is coding. The teacher can use codes as the way to give students feedback. Codes make the correction helpful than random mark to comment the students' writing and it is also neater. This following table is symbols that are usually used by the teacher (D Bryne in Harmer: 2001)

SYMBOL	MEANING	EXAMPLE
S	Incorrect spelling	I rec ^S ieved ^S your letter.
W.O.	Wrong word order	We know ^{W.O.} well this city. Always I am happy here.
T	Wrong tense	If he will ^T come, it will be too late.
C	Concord. Subject and verb do not agree	Two polic ^C emen has come. The news ^C are bad today.
WF	Wrong form	We want ^{WF} that you come. That table is ^{WF} our.
S/P	Singular or plural form wrong	We need more ^S informations.
∧	Something has been left out	They said [∧] was wrong. He hit me on [∧] shoulder.
[]	Something is not necessary	It was too much ^[] difficult
?M	Meaning is not clear	Come and rest with us for a week. The view from here is very ^{?M} suggestive.
NA	The usage is not appropriate	He ^{NA} requested me to sit down.
P	Punctuation wrong	What ^P s your name ^P . He asked me what I wanted ^P ?

Table 2: The Example of Symbols by D Bryne (Harmer: 2001)

In conclusion, there are some teacher's roles in teaching writing. The teacher can become a motivator to encourage ability in writing. The teacher can give the students support so they will be more confident in writing. In some cases, the teacher also is a resource to give some information or knowledge to the students to make students get ideas to develop their writing. The students' writing will have some problems or mistakes, it will be the teacher' job to give them feedback or comments to make students' writing better than before. The teacher's roles are to help students in the teaching learning process.

d. Types of Writing Performance

Writing performances are affected by the variety of texts that the teachers expose to the students. There are five major categories of writing performance by Brown (2001: 343):

a. Imitative or Writing Down

In the beginning stage, students start to learn the conventions of the orthographic code. Students learn how to write by imitating what the teachers' write to recognize them. The teacher can dictate the students, and they have to write down what exactly the teacher said.

b. Intensive or Controlled

Intensive writing can be done by presenting a paragraph to students in which they have to alter a given structure throughout.

c. Self-Writing

Self-writing is a kind of writing with only the self in mind as audience. Note-taking during the classroom is the important example of this category. The other example of this is diary or a dialogue journal. Students can record their feelings, thoughts and reactions.

d. Display Writing

Display writing is writing within the curricular context. Short answer exercises, essay examinations and research reports are the examples of display writing.

e. Real Writing

Real writing is when the writer gives genuinely the information to an audience.

These are the examples of activities of real writing

- Academic
- Vocation/Technical
- Personal

In conclusion, each of the writing classroom performances has its own type. The teacher has to choose the appropriate performances used for different texts and students' stage.

3. Teaching Writing for Junior High School Students

There are three parts in this discussion. They are characteristics of junior high school students, curriculum KTSP for junior high school and writing skill for junior high school students. Those will be explained as follows.

a. Characteristics of Junior High School Students

One of the factors considered in the teaching-learning process is the age of the students. Harmer (2001: 37) says the major factor in the teacher's decision in teaching materials and how the way to deliver to students is the age of students. Each category of students' age has their own characteristics. Harmer (2001: 38) divides students at different ages into three categories. They are young children, adolescents and adult.

The average age of eighth grade students in junior high school in Indonesia is 12-15 years old. In a book Language Activities for Teenagers edited by Seth Lithstromberg, the learners aged 11-16 years old can be categorized as teenagers or adolescents. According to Harmer (2001: 38), teaching adolescents students has difficult problems. The most problem is students in this phase of searching for their identity. They need a peel approval and self-esteem from their environment. Besides, it is more encouraging for students if they are not bored in the classroom. They do not bring their problems into the classroom. It is useful if the teacher gives them supportive and constructive way to manage the students rather than scold them.

However, the advantages of teaching adolescents are students in this stage have a great capacity to learn and a passionate commitment dealing with their interest. If students get challenges in the classroom activities, they can be motivated to follow the classroom activities. The duty of the teacher is by provoking students' motivation in the teaching and learning processes with the use of relevant and involving materials to draw out students' interest.

b. Curriculum KTSP (School-Based Curriculum)

According to BNSP, curriculum is a set of plans and arrangements regarding objectives, content and learning materials as well as the means used as a guideline organization of learning activities to achieve objectives of the study. The aim of curriculum KTSP is to develop students' potential in the different areas, condition and local potential. The development of Curriculum KTSP based on national standards of education is to achieve the goals of national education. There are eight national education standards, they are standard of content, standard of process, competence of graduates, staff, facilities and infrastructure, management, financing and educational assessment. Two of them, namely Standards of Content (SI) and Standard of Graduate Competences (SKL) are the main reference for education in developing curriculum.

The implementation of KTSP since academic year 2006/2007 is guided by the guidelines drawn up by the Badan Standar Nasional Pendidikan (BSNP).

According to Law of the Republic of Indonesia Number 20 year 2003 on National Education System and Government Regulation of the Republic of Indonesia Number 19 Year 2005 on National Education Standards states that the main reference of curriculum of primary and secondary are Standards of Content (SI) and Standard of Graduate Competences (SKL),

Teaching English in junior high school must cover four language skills; one of them is writing. There are some writing competences that students have to accomplish according to the regulation of ministry of National Education. Those competencies are standard competences and basic competences. The following tables are the standard competences and basic competences of English writing for junior high school of the eighth grade of 1st and 2nd semester.

Table 3: Standard Competences and Basic Competences of Writing Skill for Eighth Grade 1st Semester

Standar Kompetensi	Kompetensi Dasar
Menulis 1. Mengungkapkan makna dalam teks tulis fungsional dan esei pendek sederhana berbentuk descriptive, dan recount untuk berinteraksi dengan lingkungan sekitar	6.1. Mengungkapkan makna dalam bentuk teks tulis fungsional pendek sederhana dengan menggunakan ragam bahasa tulis secara akurat, lancar dan berterima untuk berinteraksi dengan lingkungan sekitar 6.2. Mengungkapkan makna dan langkah retorika dalam esei pendek sederhana dengan menggunakan ragam bahasa tulis secara akurat, lancar dan berterima untuk berinteraksi dengan lingkungan sekitar dalam teks berbentuk descriptive dan recount

Table 4: Standard Competences and Basic Competences of Writing Skill for Eighth Grade 2nd Semester

Standar Kompetensi	Kompetenai Dasar
Menulis 2. Mengungkapkan makna dalam teks tulis fungsional dan esei pendek sederhana berbentuk recount dan narrative untuk berinteraksi dengan lingkungan sekitar	12.1 Mengungkapkan makna dalam bentuk teks tulis fungsional pendek sederhana dengan menggunakan ragam bahasa tulis secara akurat, lancar dan berterima untuk berinteraksi dengan lingkungan sekitar 12.2 Mengungkapkan makna dan langkah retorika dalam esei pendek sederhana dengan menggunakan ragam bahasa tulis secara akurat, lancar dan berterima untuk berinteraksi dengan lingkungan sekitar berbentuk recount dan narrative

From Table 3 and 4, the students of the eighth grade learn short essays. In the first semester, they learn descriptive and recount. For second semester, they learn recount and narrative. Thus, in an academic year, students of the eighth grade of junior high school learn three text types; they are descriptive, recount and narrative.

Furthermore, the researcher used the standard competences and basic competences from the Table 3 and Table 4 as the basis in developing the writing materials for the eighth grade of junior high school students.

4. Materials Development

a. Definition of Materials Development

There are some definitions of materials development. Graves (2000: 149) defines material development is the planning process of creating units and lessons to achieve the goal and objective of the study. It also can be defined as the process of creating, choosing or adapting, and organizing materials and activities until the students can achieve the objective to help them in reaching the goals of the courses.

Tomlinson (1998: 2) states materials development refers to anything to provide sources of language input and to exploit those sources in ways which maximize the likelihood of intake.

In designing materials, there are some points that need to consider. Graves (1993: 152) lists some considerations in organizing activities in developing material:

- a. Activities should draw on what students know and be relevant to them.
- b. Activities should focus on students' outside of class need, if appropriate.
- c. Activities should build students' confidence.
- d. Activities should allow students to problem solve, discover and analyze.
- e. Activities should help students develop specific skills and strategies.
- f. Activities should help students develop specific language and skills they need for authentic communication.
- g. Activities should integrate the four skills of speaking, listening, reading and writing.
- h. Activities should enable students to understand how a text is constructed.
- i. Activities should enable students to understand own culture better.
- j. Activities should enable students to develop social awareness.
- k. Activities should be as authentic as possible.
- l. Activities should vary the roles and groupings.
- m. Activities should be various types and purposes
- n. Activities should use authentic texts or realia when possible
- o. Activities should employ a variety of materials.

b. Steps of Materials Developments

In developing materials, there are some steps that should be followed. Jolly and Bolitho in Tomlinson (1998: 98) propose some steps that should be followed in developing writing materials. Those are:

a. Identification of need for materials

The first step is identification of need for materials. In this step, materials developers identify a need to fulfill or problem to solve.

b. Exploration of need

The second step is exploration of needs. The materials developers need to explore the area of needs or problems in term of the appropriateness of the language and function.

c. Contextual realisation of materials

The third step is contextual realisation of materials. The contextual realisation involves the suitable ideas, contexts and text.

d. Pedagogical realisation of materials

The fourth step is pedagogical realisation of materials. The pedagogical realisation involves the appropriateness of the exercises and activities and the appropriateness of the instruction.

e. Production of materials

The fifth step is production of materials. The physical production of the materials is designed in the form of the book including the layout, type size, and cover.

f. Student use of materials

The sixth step is student use of materials. In this step, the materials developers can use the developed materials in the classroom. It can be followed by completion of worksheet at home and checking it in the next class.

g. Evaluations of materials

The last step is evaluation of materials. Students can give comments and difficulties with the worksheet.

B. Conceptual Framework

English is one of the subjects that is taught in junior high school. There are four skills that should be mastered by students. One of them is writing. Writing is considered as a complicated skill to acquire. Richards and Renandya (2002) state that writing is the most difficult skill for the second language learners to master.

According to the observation, writing becomes a problem for students of eighth grade of Junior High School. First, students get problems in developing their ideas in writing a text. Second, they find difficulties in choosing the words that suitable for their writing because they have lack of vocabulary. The other problem is the use of grammar. They still have some mistakes using the grammar. In arranging sentences, they still have some mistakes in the use of punctuation, spelling and capitalization.

One of the ways to solve the problems is by using interesting materials to help students practice writing. Unfortunately, based on the observation in SMP N 3 Tempel, the teacher only used LKS (Lembar Kerja Siswa) in the teaching learning process. In fact, the LKS which is used does not help students to develop their writing. Students feel bored to do the assignments because it only answers the questions from the texts. It does not give students a motivation to write.

Based on the explanation above, the researcher wanted to develop writing materials for students of eighth grade of junior high school using the process of writing. The steps of process of writing are pre-writing, drafting, responding and editing. In developing the materials, the researcher used the steps which are proposed by Jolly and Balitho in Tomlinson (1998: 98) which some modifications. The steps consist of conducting needs analysis, writing the course grid, developing the first draft, getting expert judgment and evaluating the first draft of the materials, also revision the first materials.

CHAPTER III

RESEARCH METHOD

This chapter presents the method used in this research. The research type, the research setting, the research subjects, the research procedure, the data collection technique, the data collection instruments and the data analysis techniques are explained.

A. Research Type

The objective of this research is to develop writing materials for students of the eighth grade of SMP N 3 Tempel. These materials are developed based on the students' needs. This research is categorized as an Educational Research and Development (R&D). Gall, Gall and Borg (2003: 569) state that "Educational R&D is an industry-based development model in which the findings of research are used to design new products and procedures, which systematically field-tested, evaluated, and refined to meet the specified criteria of effectiveness, quality or similar standards". The result of this study is writing materials for students of eighth grade of SMP N 3 Tempel.

B. Research Setting

This research was conducted at SMP N 3 Tempel. It is located in Pondokrejo, Tempel, Sleman, Yogyakarta. The school has 9 classrooms which consist of 3 classrooms for the seventh grade, 3 classrooms for the eighth grade and 3 classrooms for the ninth grade, the headmistress' office, the teachers' office, a library, a computer laboratory, a science laboratory, a health center, a mosque, two fields, canteens, some toilets and parking areas. The classrooms consist of for about thirty three students. There are LCD, whiteboard, cupboard, chairs and tables for each class.

C. Research Subjects

The subjects of the research were students of the eighth grade of SMP N 3 Tempel. There were 88 students of the eighth grade divided into three classes at the age of 13-15 years old.

D. Research Procedures

The research procedures of the research were adapted from Jolly and Bolitho (in Tomlinson, 1998) with some modifications. There are 5 steps of the research procedures which were conducting needs analysis, writing the course grid, developing the first draft of the materials, getting expert judgment and revising the first draft of the materials. The diagram of the reseach procedures is presented in the next page.

1. Conducting Needs Analysis

The first step of this procedure was conducting needs analysis from students of the eighth grade of SMP N 3 Tempel to find out information about the characteristic of them. The results of the need analysis were used as guidelines in designing writing materials.

2. Writing the Course Grid

Based on the data from the needs analysis, the researcher made course grid to develop the writing materials.

3. Developing the First Draft of Writing Materials

After writing course grid, the researcher developed activities based on the need analysis and junior high schools' curriculum. The researcher developed 3 units of writing materials.

4. Getting the Expert Judgment and Evaluating the First Draft

After designing the writing materials, the evaluation questionnaire for expert judgments was distributed. The results were used to evaluate and revise the materials.

5. Revising the First Draft of the Materials

The last step is revising the draft based on the data from the questionnaire. The suggestions and advices from the expert judgment were considered to revise the developed materials. The result was the final product of the writing materials for students of the eighth grade of SMP N 3 Tempel.

E. Data Collection Techniques

In this research, there were two techniques which were used. Those were the students' needs analysis and the expert judgment. The first technique, the students' needs analysis, was the technique conducted before the first draft of the writing materials was developed. The data were the target needs and the learning needs collected by distributing questionnaires for students. The second was the expert judgment. It was conducted after developing the first draft. The data was conducted to evaluate the appropriateness of the materials.

F. Data Collection Instruments

There were two instruments of questionnaires guidelines which were used in collecting the data. Those are needs analysis questionnaires and expert judgment questionnaires.

1. Needs Analysis Questionnaires

Needs analysis questionnaires were distributed to the students of the eighth grades SMP N 3 Tempel to get information about the target needs and the learning needs. The organization of the first questionnaire is explained in the following table:

Table 5: The Organization of the Need Analysis Questionnaire for Students

Question Numbers	The Purpose of the Questions	References

13	To find out students' preference related to learning setting	Nunan (2004:70-73)
14	To find out students' preference related to students' role	Nunan (2004:64-70)
15-17	To find out students' preference related to teacher's roles	Nunan (2004:64-70)

2. The Expert Judgment Questionnaire

The second questionnaire was used to obtain data from the expert to evaluate the writing materials. It was aimed to find the respondent's opinions and suggestions for revising the developed materials. The questions were adapted from Instrument Penilaian Buku Bahasa Inggris SMP by BSNP.

Table 6: The Organization of the Evaluation Questionnaire for Expert

G. Data Analysis Techniques

This research used quantitative data which were obtained from the questionnaires. There were two kinds of questionnaires that were analyzed differently as described as follows.

1. Data from need analysis

The first questionnaire was used to get needs analysis from the students. It was analyzed into percentage. The percentage was gained from the divided of the frequency by the total of the respondents which is multiplied by 100%. The formula is shown as follows:

$$P (\%) = \frac{f \times (100)}{N}$$

P = Percentage

f = frequency

N = total participants

100% = fix number

2. Data from the expert judgment

The second questionnaire was used to obtain the data from the expert for revising the developed materials. Likert-Scale was used as the measurement for the questionnaires in evaluating the developed materials. The data from this questionnaire were analysed using the formula proposed by Suharto (2005: 52-53) as follows:

$$R = \frac{Xh - Xi}{4}$$

R = Range

Xh = the highest score

Xi = the lowest score

4 = range of Likert-Scale

The result of the data would be converted to describe analysis in terms of its goodness proposed by Suharto (2005: 52-53). The indicator to measure is the mean (\bar{x}). The mean were calculated by using the formula of the data conversion below:

$$Mn = \frac{\sum fX}{N}$$

Mn = mean

$\sum fX$ = number of scores

N = number of cases

Based on the calculation, it is presented as follows:

Table 7 Data Conversion Table Suharto (2005)

No.	Scale Range	Category
1.	$1 \leq x \leq 1.74$	Poor
2.	$1.75 \leq x \leq 2.49$	Fair
3.	$2.5 \leq x \leq 3.24$	Good
4.	$3.25 \leq x \leq 4$	Very Good

CHAPTER IV
RESEARCH FINDINGS AND DISCUSSION

This chapter presents the findings of the research. The findings consist of the result of the needs analysis, the course grid, the developed materials and the expert judgment. A discussion is also presented in this chapter.

A. Research Findings

1. The Result of Needs Analysis

a. The Description of the Students

The respondents of the needs analysis of this research were students of the eighth grade of SMP N 3 Tempel. The respondents consisted of 88 students. The age of the respondents was around 13-15 years old. The description of the respondents is presented in the following table.

Table 8: The Respondents of Needs Analysis

Number of Respondent	Sex		Age
	Male	Female
88	43	45	13-15

b. Students' Opinions of Writing

Based on the questionnaires, there are three main points included the targets' opinions of writing; they are the difficulties of writing, the importance of writing and the frequency of students' writing. The descriptions of the students' opinions are presented in the following table.

Table 9: Students' Opinions of Writing

Questions	Opinions	Percentage (%)
In my opinion, writing a text in English is an activity that....	Very easy to do	1.1%
	Easy to do	20.2%
	Quite easy to do	28.4%
	Hard to do	53.4%
	Very hard to do	6.8%
In my opinion, writing is.....	Very important	33%
	Important	42%
	Quite important	25%
	Not important	0%
I write an English text	Always	1.1%
	Often	11.4%
	Sometimes	72.7%
	Never	14.8%

From the Table 9, it can be seen that the students' opinions of writing is divided into three points. First, it was the difficulties of writing. More than half of the students stated that writing was difficult to do. Further 6,8 % of the students stated that writing was very difficult to do. They said that it was difficult because they had to deal with grammar, vocabulary, coherence and others. They also said that they got problems in developing their idea in writing a text. There were 10.2% of the students stated that writing was easy to do. The rest of students stated that writing was quite easy to do. Only one student stated that writing was very easy to do. To sum up, the students still found some problems to do writing activity.

Second, it was students' opinion about the importance of writing. There were 33% of the students stated that writing was very important, 42% of them told writing was important and the rest of the students stated that it was quite important. It means that students already realized the importance of writing.

Third, it was students' frequency in doing writing. The needs analysis gave information that most of the students sometimes practiced their writing activity. There were 11.4% of them stating that they often practice their writing activity. The rest of the students stated that they never practiced their writing activity.

From the explanation above, it can be concluded that the students of the eighth grade of SMP N 3 Tempel already knew the importance of writing, but they still had some difficulties in writing.

c. Target Needs

According to Hutchinson and Waters (1987: 54), target needs are what the learners need to do in the target situation. Target needs are divided into three aspects. Those are:

1) Necessities

Hutchinson and Waters (1987: 55) say necessities are what the students need to know in order to function effectively in the target situation. The descriptions of the respondents' necessities are presented in the following table.

Table 10: The Respondents Necessities

Question	Options	Percentage (%)
Which skills do you need in writing an English text?	Using the suitable structure and words choice.	63.6%
	Expressing ideas into some different sentences.	45.5%
	Arranging the appropriate sentences based on the function each text.	40.9%
	Arranging jumbled paragraphs into a genre text	45.5%
	Using the correct and appropriate grammar.	50%
	Others.	0%

For the necessities, there were 63.6% of the students that chose the skill that they need in writing a text which was using the suitable structure and words choice. The second skill chosen by 50% of them that they need was to use the correct and appropriate grammar in writing a text. There were 45.5% of the students who chose expressing ideas into some different sentences and arranging text use the correct structure of the text as their necessity. There were 40.9% of the students chose arranging the appropriate sentences based on the function each text.

2) Lacks

Hutchinson and Waters (1987:55) state that lacks are what the students' problems of the subject. It is related to the gap between what students already have and what the situation they have to achieve. The descriptions of the students' lack are presented in this following table.

Table 11: The Respondents Lacks

Question	Options	Percentage (%)
When writing an English text, I have difficulties in	Arranging the structure of the sentences.	56.8%
	Selecting the appropriate word choice.	45.5%
	Expressing ideas.	51.1%
	Formulating sentences based on the function each text.	45.5%
	Arranging text use the correct structure of the text.	39.8%
	Using the correct and appropriate grammar.	61.4%
	Others	0%

In writing a text, the difficulties faced by 61.4% of the students were related to the use of grammar. The second difficulties faced by 56.8% of the students were related to the structure of the sentences arrangement. The third difficulties faced by 51.1% of the students were to express their own ideas. There were 45.5% of the students had difficulties in selecting the appropriate word choice and formulating sentences based on the function each text. There were 39.8% of the students had difficulties in arranging text by using use the correct structure of the text. Because of the lacks of the students above, these materials provides some activities to cover those so it will be helpful for the students.

3) Wants

Wants relate to the students' wants. The descriptions of the students' want are presented in this following table.

Table 12: The Respondents Wants

Question	Options	Percentage (%)
My desire after learning writing, to make me....	To increase my ability in writing English.	73.9%
	To enable me to master vocabularies.	48.9%
	To enable me to use the suitable vocabularies in writing.	36.4%
	To increase my knowledge of text types.	48.9%
	To enable me to master grammar in writing.	45.5%
	To enable me to write with right conjunction.	23.9%
	To enable me writing the text as studied before	20.5%
	Others	1.1%

For students' wants, most of the students wanted to increase the ability in writing English. The students who want to be able to master vocabulary were 48.9%. It was the same percentage as the students who want to increase their knowledge of text type. There were 45.5% of the students to master grammar in writing. There were 36.4% of them wanted to use the suitable vocabularies in writing texts. There were 23.9% of the students wanted to write with the right conjunction and 20.5% of them wanted to write the text as they have studied before. To accumulate the students' want, some activities will be given that cover the use of text type, grammar, and conjunction.

d. Learning Needs

Learning needs are what the students' needs to do in order to learn (Hutchinson and Waters, 1987:60).

1) Input

Nunan (2004:47) defines input is the spoken, written or visual data that learners work with in the course of completing the task. The descriptions of the input are presented in this following table.

Table 13: The Topic of Materials

Question	Options	Percentage (%)
The topic of input material that I like is related to....	Daily life	67%
	Social	10.2%
	Teenager	48.9%
	Education	23.9%
	Science	15.9%
	political, economic, social and cultural	13.2%
	Others	0%

Table 13 shows that there were 67% students who want the topic of materials related to daily life and the students who chose topic related to teenager were 48%.

Table 14: The Input of Materials

Question	Options	Percentage (%)
The material input that I like is....	Picture	63.6%
	Written text	35.2%
	Video	44.3%
	Comic-strip	27.3%
	Others	0%

For material input, there were 63.6% of students wanted the material input was picture, 44.3% of them chose video, 35.2% of them chose text and 27.3% of them chose comic-strip.

Table 15: The Lengths of Input

Question	Options	Percentage (%)
The number of words that I want in the text is.....	100-200 words	64.8%
	200-300 words	22.7%
	300-400 words	6.8%
	400-500 words	5.7%
	> 500 words	0%

Table 15 shows that it should be 100-200 words long in the text as 64.8% students voted for it.

Table 16: The Importance of Grammar

Question	Options	Percentage (%)
Do the comprehension of grammar needed in writing English text?	Yes	97.7%
	No	2.3%

There were 97.7% of students stated that the comprehension of grammar is needed in writing a text.

Table 17: The Importance of Text Type

Question	Options	Percentage (%)
Is the comprehension of text type important in writing text?	Yes	95.5%
	No	4.5%

For the importance of text type, there were 95.5% of students said that the comprehension of text type was important.

2) Procedure

Procedure is what the learners will actually do with the input that forms the point of departure for the learning task (Nunan, 2004:52). The descriptions of the procedure are presented in this following table.

Table 18: The Learning Procedure

Question	Options	Percentage (%)
In writing, I want activity like....	Writing text from the picture	30.7%
	Writing text by given the topic	45.5%
	Free writing.	43.2%
	Making mind-mapping before writing.	11.4%
	Writing as the comic-strip.	15.9%
	Writing with questions as guide.	21.6%
	Others	1.1%

Table 18 shows that there were 45.5% of the students wanted to write text by given the topic.

3) Setting

Nunan (2004:70) states setting refers to the arrangement of the classroom specified or implied in the task. The descriptions of the setting are presented in this following table.

Table 19: Setting

Question	Options	Percentage (%)
In doing writing activities, I like doing....	Individually	69.3%
	In pairs	11.4%
	Group	30.7%

Table 19 shows that in doing writing activity, most of the students wanted to do in individually about 69.3%.

4) Teacher and Learner Roles

Nunan (2004:64) defines role as the part that learners and the teachers are expected in carrying out learning task as well as the social and interpersonal relationships between the participants. There are two roles in the teaching and learning process, those are learner's role and teacher's role. The explanation will explain as follows.

a) Learners' Role

The descriptions of the learner's role are presented in this following table.

Table 20: Learners' Role

Question	Options	Percentage (%)
In the teaching-learning process, I want to study by....	Asking friends	28.4%
	Critical thinking	25%
	Given the materials	30.7%
	Discussion	60.2%
	Others	2.3%

Table 20 shows that in doing writing activity, the students around 60.2% wanted to study by discussion.

b) Teacher's Role

The descriptions of the teacher's role are presented in this following table.

Table 21: Teacher's Role (During Writing Activity)

Questions	Options	Percentage (%)
During the teaching and learning process, you would like the teacher to....	Explaining the materials.	63.6%
	Giving many examples.	48.9%
	Discussion.	46.6%
	Others	0%

Table 21 shows that during the teaching and learning process, most of the students liked if the teacher explains the materials.

Table 22 Teacher's Role (When Students Have Difficulties)

Questions	Options	Percentage (%)
When you have difficulties in writing a text, the teacher should do	Explaining the materials again	60.2%
	Answering questions directly	23.9%
	Provide opportunities for students to re-read the example	31.8%
	Looking student's work and tell the mistakes	45.5%
	Describes the steps that must be done	51.1%
	Other	0%

Table 22 showed that there were 60.2% of the students liked to have more explanation when they have difficulties in writing activity.

Table 23: Teachers' Role (After Writing Activity)

Questions	Options	Percentage (%)
After finishing the task (writing text), the teacher should do...	Giving correction and providing signs on your mistakes that you have made.	70.5%
	Giving correction on your mistakes that you have made directly.	47.7%
	Giving correction on your mistakes that you have made in the forum.	26.1%
	Others	0%

The table 4.15 shows that there were 70.5% of the students liked after finishing the task; they want the teacher give them corrections and provides signs on the students' mistakes.

2. The Course Grid

After finding the result of need analysis, the next step was developing the course grid. The course grid was developed in accordance with the data obtained from the needs analysis and with the School-Based Curriculum. It was written as a guideline for developing the writing materials for students of eighth grade of SMP N 3 Tempel.

The researcher wrote three course grids for three units as the learning materials. Each unit represents the different text types; those are descriptive text, recount text and narrative text. Moreover, the activities for each unit consist of four stages of writing process adapted from some experts. They are pre-writing, drafting, responding and editing.

a. Unit 1

The title of the first unit was My Best Friend. The genre of this unit was descriptive text. In regard to the School-Based Curriculum, the materials were related to the standard competence number 1 for writing competence and the basic competences were students were able to express meaning in short functional text by using written language variety accurately, fluently, and acceptably in the daily life and to express meaning and rhetoric steps in an essay accurately and acceptably in the daily life context in the form of descriptive text. The goals achievements of the lessons were the students are expected to be able to identify the use of the generic structure and the language features of the descriptive text; to use Simple Present Tense; and to write the descriptive text. This unit consisted of 16 activities.

b. Unit 2

The title of Unit 2 was My Unforgettable Experience. In this unit, students learnt about recount text. In regard to the School-Based Curriculum, the materials were related to the standard competence number 1 and 2 for writing competence and the basic competences number 6.1, 6.2, 12.1, 12.2. The indicators were based on the basic competences, those were students were expected to be able to express meaning in short functional text by using written language variety accurately, fluently, and acceptably in the daily life and to express meaning and rhetoric steps in an essay accurately and acceptably in the daily life context in the form of recount text. The goals achievements of the lessons were the students were expected to be able to identify the use of the generic structure and the language features of the recount text; to use Simple Past Tense; and to write the recount text. This unit consisted of 15 activities.

c. Unit 3

The genre of Unit 3 was narrative and the title of this unit was My Favorite Story. The materials were related to the standard competence number 2 for writing competence and basic competences number 12.1, 12.2. The indicators were based on the basic competences, those were students were expected to be able to express meaning in short functional text by using written language variety accurately, fluently, and acceptably in the daily life and to express meaning and rhetoric steps in an essay accurately and acceptably in the daily life context in the form of narrative text. The goals achievements of the lessons were the students were expected to be able to identify the use of the generic structure and the language features of the narrative text; to use Past Continuous Tense; and to write the narrative text. This unit consisted of 17 activities.

3. The Developed Materials

After writing the course grid, the next step was developing writing materials. The materials were developed into three units. Each unit was developed and sequenced using the same procedure. It is conducted in four stages.

The first was Pre-writing. In this stage, students were introduced the text given to the students as a model. The researcher also gave the information about generic structure and the genre of the text to the students. Several questions about the text were also given to guide them in comprehending about the content of the text. They also were given the information about grammar and some activities to practice their grammar. Meanwhile, the teacher facilitated the students by giving them the explanation about those writing materials. Moreover, this stage included some activities before students doing writing.

The second, Drafting, was activities that students tried to write their first draft of the text. In this stage, students had to implement their understanding in the first stage to their writing. Students were given some guidance such as pictures, videos, or questions to develop their ideas in writing a text.

The third was Responding. In this stage, students' work got feedback from the teacher or peers. Students practiced to correct their partner's work and then the teacher completed the correction. Teacher's comments were also included in this stage. It was the most important role to make the students' writing better. Meanwhile, the teacher's role was as a feedback provider that was to encourage students' writing.

The last stage was Editing. After receiving feedback from the teacher and peers, students edited their writing into a good text. This was the last stage of the materials in each unit.

The materials also included reflection, the summary of each unit and my dictionary (Words' list). Table 24 in the following described the framework of the developed materials.

4. The Expert Judgment

After developing the first draft of the materials, an evaluation was conducted to identify the appropriateness of the materials by distributing questionnaires to the expert. The items of the questionnaires were adapted by BSNP and consist of four aspects. They are the appropriateness of content, the appropriateness of the languages, the appropriateness of the presentation and the appropriateness of the graphic.

After getting the expert judgment, the results were analyzed to revise the materials. The collection of the data used Likert scale. The following explanations describe the results of the expert judgment.

a. Unit 1

1) The Result of Expert Judgment

a) The Appropriateness of the Content

The analysis of the appropriateness of the content is shown by the following table.

Table 25: The Appropriateness of the Content

No	A. The Appropriateness of Content	Scores
	Statements
1.	The developed materials are appropriate with English standard and basic competences of eighth grade of junior high school based on Curriculum 2006, standard competence 1 and basic competences 6.1, 6.2.	4
2.	The developed materials are appropriate with the course grid.	4
3.	The developed materials contain texts which are relevant to students' need.	2
4.	The developed materials lead students to comprehend the structure organization of a text.	3
5.	The developed materials lead students to comprehend the social function of a text.	3
6.	The topics are appropriate with eighth grade of Junior high school.	4
Mean		3.33

Table 25 shows that the mean value of the appropriateness of the content of the developed materials was 3.33. It was categorized as “very good” as its position in interval $3.25 < x \leq 4$.

b) The Appropriateness of the Language

The analysis of the appropriateness of the language is shown by the following table.

Table 26: The Appropriateness of the Language

No	B. The Appropriateness of Language	Scores
	Statements
1.	The language used of instruction, the explanation and the text of the materials are appropriate with students' level.	4
2.	The language used is relevant to students' language development.	4
3.	The language used of the materials can be easily understood by the students.	3
4.	The language used is relevant to English grammatical rule.	3
5.	The materials use a correct spelling.	4
6.	The language used is relevant to students' daily life.	3
Mean		3.5

Table 26 shows that the mean value of the appropriateness of the language of the developed materials was 3.5. It was categorized as “very good” as its position in interval $3.25 < x \leq 4$.

c) The Appropriateness of the Presentation

The analysis of the appropriateness of the presentation is shown by the following table.

Table 27: The Appropriateness of the Presentation

No	C. The Appropriateness of Presentation	Scores
	Statements
1.	The developed materials help students to increase their writing ability.	3
2.	The materials encourage students to study writing autodidact.	3
3.	The developed materials are presented systematically from pre-writing, drafting, responding and editing.	4
4.	The developed materials stimulate students' ideas to write.	4
5.	The materials encourage students to use the suitable grammar.	3
6.	The materials encourage students to use the	4

	suitable structure organization of the text.
7.	The developed materials are using feedback to motivate students' writing.	4
8.	The developed materials are completed by reflection, my dictionary and summary.	4
9.	The developed materials have a balance of chapters.	4
Mean		3.67

Table 27 shows that the mean value of the appropriateness of the presentation of the developed materials was 3.67. It was categorized as “very good” as its position in interval $3.25 < x \leq 4$.

d) The Appropriateness of Graphic

The analysis of the appropriateness of the graphic is shown by the following table.

Table 28: The Appropriateness of the Graphic

No	D. The Appropriateness of Graphic	Scores
	Statements
1.	The developed materials are printed in the ISO-standardized size paper (A4, A5, B5)	4
2.	The composition of title, sub headings, illustrations, text, and page number is propositional and consistent.	4
3.	The font type and color can be read easily.	3
4.	The font used are not too various.	2
5.	The color and picture illustration are interesting.	2
6.	The picture illustrations are relevant with the topic and the content of the materials to students' daily life.	4
7.	The whole layout is interesting.	4
Mean		3.28

Table 28 shows that the mean value of the appropriateness of the graphic of the developed materials was 3.28. It was categorized as “very good” as its position in interval $3.25 < x \leq 4$.

2) Revision of Unit 1

Based on the results of the expert judgment, there are some aspects to be revised in order to improve the quality of the materials. Suggestions and recommendations from the expert are important for the developed materials. The following table describes the points of the revisions.

Table 29: Revision of Unit 1

B. Discussion

The aim of this research was to develop appropriate writing materials for the students of the eighth grade of SMP N 3 Tempel. The research was conducted in SMP N 3 Tempel. The population sample of this research was 88 students of eighth grade. In developing materials, there are several steps to develop them. Those were conducting need analysis, writing course grids, making the first draft of the materials, getting expert judgment and making the final product.

The first step before developing the materials was conducting the needs analysis. The data of the needs analysis were obtained by distributing questionnaires to the students of eighth grade. The aim of this step was to find out the target needs and the learning needs. The needs analysis questionnaires were developed according to Hutchinson and Waters (1987) and Nunan (2004).

According to Hutchinson and Waters (1987: 54), target needs are what the learner needs to do in the target situation. In terms of the target need, there are three aspects: necessities, wants and lacks. For necessities, the skill that students' need in writing a text is using the suitable structure organization and words choice. For wants, the students wanted to increase their ability in writing English from these materials developed. For lacks, the difficulties faced by the students were related the use of grammar, the second of the difficulties faced by the students was related to the structure of the sentences and the third was how to express their own ideas.

According to Hutchinson and Waters (1987: 60), learning needs are what the students' needs to do in order to learn. Nunan (2004: 47) states that the aspects that needed in term of learning need are input, procedure, teacher's role, learner's role and setting.

Nunan (2004: 47) defines input as the spoken, written or visual data that learners work with in the course of completing the task. Regarding to writing input, most of the students wanted the topic of the materials are related to daily life. Students wanted the input of the materials was pictures. Regarding to the input length, students wanted to have input texts with 100-200 words in length. Students also stated that the comprehension of grammar and text type is important.

Nunan (2004: 52) states that procedure is what learners will actually do with the input that forms the point of departure for the learning task. Regarding to writing procedure, most of students prefer to give procedure by given a certain topic.

Nunan (2004: 70) states that setting refers to the arrangement of the classroom specified or implied in the task. For setting, students wanted to do tasks individually.

Nunan (2004: 64) defines role as the part that learners and teachers are expected in carrying out learning task as well as the social and interpersonal relationships between the participants. There are two roles in the teaching and learning process, those are learner's role and teacher's role. For learner's role, students prefer to do writing activity by discussion. For teacher' role; most of the students liked if the teacher explains the materials during the teaching and learning process. When students have difficulties in writing activity, students liked if the teacher explain the materials again. After writing activity, students wanted the teacher give them corrections and provides signs on the students' mistakes.

After conducting the needs analysis, the next step was developing a course grid. A course grid was needed as the guidance to develop materials. The materials cover only the writing skill. There were three units in these materials. Each unit represented the different text types; those were descriptive text, recount text and narrative text. Unit 1 consisted of 16 activities, Unit 2 had 15 activities and Unit 3 had 17 activities with the similar pattern. Unit 1 discussed about descriptive text. The title of the first unit was My Best Friend. The grammar used in this unit was simple present tense. Unit 2 discussed about recount text. The title of the unit was My Unforgettable Experience. The grammar used in this unit was simple past tense. Unit 3 discussed about narrative text. The title of the unit was My Favorite Story. The grammar used in this unit was past continuous tense.

The next step was writing the materials. In the developed materials, each unit was conducted in four stages, those were Pre-Writing, Drafting, Responding and Editing. In Pre-Writing, students were provided a text, generic structure of the text and grammar. In Drafting, try to write their first draft of the text. In Responding, students' writing gets a feedback from the teacher or peers. In Editing, students edit their writing. The materials also include reflection, the summary of each unit and my dictionary (Words' list).

The next step after the materials developed was the expert judgment. The materials were evaluated by an expert by distributing questionnaires. The items of questionnaires were adapted from BSNP that evaluate the appropriateness of the content, language, presentation and design. For the appropriateness of the content, there were six statements. For the appropriateness of the language, there were six statements. For the appropriateness of the presentation, there were nine statements. For the appropriateness of the design, there were seven statements. Based on research finding, the writing materials for students of the eighth grade that has been developed was appropriate with the students' target needs and learning need.

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

In this chapter, the research findings are summarized and the conclusions are drawn. Some suggestions are addressed at the last part in this chapter.

A. Conclusions

1. The Result of the Need Analysis

Based on the research findings, the needs analysis are divided into two aspects which are the target needs and the learning needs. Those aspects are described below.

a. The Target Needs

Based on the research findings, the needs analysis are divided into two aspects which are target needs and learning needs. Those aspects are described below:

- 1) More than a half of students (53.4%) state that writing is difficult to do.
- 2) There are 42% of the students say that writing is an important skill and 33% of them say that writing is very important.
- 3) Most of the students (72.7%) sometimes practice their writing activity.
- 4) More than a half of students (63.6%) choose the skill that they need in writing a text is using the suitable structure organization and words choice.
- 5) More than a half of students (61.4%) agree that they have lack of grammar.
- 6) Most of the students (73.9%) claim they want to increase their ability in writing English.

b. The Learning Needs

Based on the results of the needs analysis, the learning needs are listed below:

- 1) In terms of input, more than a half of the students (67%) want the topic of materials related to daily life. For input of materials, 63.6% of students want pictures as the input before writing. Regarding the input length, most of students (64.8%) want to have input texts with 100-200 words in length. Most of students also (97.7%) state that the comprehension of grammar is important. 95.5% of students said that the comprehension of text type was important.
- 2) In terms of writing procedure, almost a half of the students (45.5%) want to write text by given the certain topic.
- 3) Related to the setting, more than a half of students (69.3%) want to do writing activities individually.
- 4) In terms of students' role, most of students (60.2%) want to study by discussion.
- 5) In terms of teacher' roles, most of the students (63.6%) like the teacher explains the materials during writing activities. 60.2% of the students like if the teacher explains the materials again when they have difficulties in writing activity. Most of students (70.5%) like after finishing the task; they want the teacher give them corrections and provides signs on the students' mistakes.

2. The Characteristics of Writing Materials

Based on the expert judgment, the developed materials can be categorized as appropriate. The developed materials have the characteristics as described in this following paragraph.

The first part of this unit is the picture of the unit. The title of the unit is related to the students' life, those are My Best Friend, My Unforgettable Experience and My Favorite Story. Then, it is followed by some questions related to the topic.

The main parts of this unit are divided into four stage. The first is Pre-Writing. The activities are designed to build students' background knowledge. Students are introduced to the genre of the text in each unit. Students are also given some activities to have comprehension about the generic structure of the text and the grammar used of the text. The second is Drafting. In this stage, students have to implement what they learnt in the previous to write their first draft of the text. The third is Responding. These activities are designed to make the students' writing better. In this stage, students' writing gets a feedback from the teacher or peers. The last stage is Editing. In this activity, students write their text after getting feedback from the teacher and peers.

The last part of this unit is complement including reflection, the summary of each unit and my dictionary

B. Suggestions

The final product of this research is writing materials for students of eighth grade of SMP N 3 Tempel. Considering the research findings, there are some suggestions proposed for some parties.

1. The English Teachers

The English teachers of eighth grade of junior high school who teach English could use the developed materials in the teaching learning process. These developed materials accomplish to improve the students' writing skill. The teacher could use the developed materials to teach the students about descriptive text, recount text and narrative text.

2. The Other Material Developers

The most important thing in developing materials is conducting students' needs analysis. The product of the research should provide students' needs and interest. The developed materials are very useful for the teachers and the students in the teaching learning process if they are easily used. The next thing that should be considered by the developers is the design of the materials. The design of the materials should be eye-catching and interesting for the students.

GRAMMAR ZONE

We use simple present tense to talk about:

- Something happens all the time or repeatedly (as habit)
e.g : I get up 6 o'clock every morning.
- Something is true in general
e.g : The earth goes round the sun.

The rules of Simple Present Tense:

A. Present Tense Verbal

I
You
We
They } + V1 +0

He
She
It } + V1 (e/es) +O *

E.g : I wake up early every morning.

*Verbs ending in "-o", "-sh", "-ch" and "-ss"
+ es

E.g : He goes to school on foot.

* Verbs ending in consonant + y

Change y into (i) + es

E.g : She studies a lot.

B. Present Tense Nominal

I + am

e.g : I am beautiful.

She
He
It } + is

They
We
You } + are

E.g : He is my brother.

E.g : We are Junior High School students.

Activity 7

After studying simple present tense, decide whether the statements are true or false. Circle the right answer.

MY UNFORGETTABLE EXPERIENCES

UNIT 2

Do you have an experience that you never forget it? It can be an interesting or a terrible experience. Can you tell me how your unforgettable experience is?

PRE-WRITING

Activity 1

Study the following text.

Going Fishing for the First Time

Last week, my uncle asked me to go fishing with him in the river near his house. He also told me that the scenery there is beautiful. I was excited because I had never gone fishing before. Therefore, he taught me how to do it well.

We left at 9 a.m. when we got to the river, there were already some people. They were also fishing. Then, we looked for a convenient place under a tree. We put our fishing equipment and our lunch box on the mat we brought. After that, my uncle taught me how to catch fish. He did it patiently.

Suddenly, in the middle of fishing, I felt something really heavy catching my hook. I could not pull it until I slipped and fell into the river. I did not realise that the grass was slippery. My uncle pulled me out quickly. He helped me reach the ground. Thank God, I was safe even though I have mud all over my face.

It was embarrassing.

MY FAVORITE STORY

3

When you were young, did you have a favorite story? It can be a myth, fairy tale or legend. Can you tell me your favorite story?

PRE-WRITING

Activity 1

Study the following text.

The Ant and the Grasshopper

One summer's day, Grasshopper was dancing, singing happily and playing his violin with all his heart. He saw Ant passing by, bearing along with great toil a wheatear to store for the winter.

"Come and sing with me instead of working so hard", said Grasshopper "Let's have fun together."

"I must store food for the winter", said Ant, "and I advise you to do the same."

"Don't worry about winter, it's still very far away", said Grasshopper, laughing at him. But Ant wouldn't listen and continued his toil.

When the winter came, the starving Grasshopper went to Ant's house and humbly begged for something to eat.

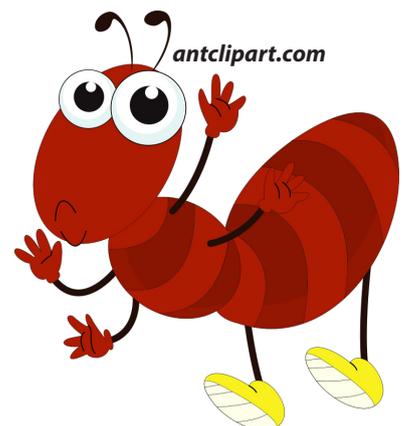

"If you had listened to my advice in the summer you would not now be in need," said Ant. "I'm afraid you will have to go to bed without supper." Then he closed the door.

Activity 2

Study the text below.

My Best Friend

I have a best friend. Her full name is SintaBakti, but you can call her Sinta. She is my classmate.

Sinta has an oval face. She has black eyes. She has a long black hair. She has a small nose and thin lips. Her height is 150 cms, she is taller than me. She is slim because she is only 40 kg in weight. She has white skin.

Sinta often wears pink clothes because she really likes pink. She has a large number of pink cloth variations. She also often wears pink nail polish on her fingers. Moreover, she is very stylish.

Activity 5

Study the following information. Do you understand the information?

Descriptive Text

A descriptive text is a text which focuses on the characteristic features of a particular thing, e.g person, animal or place. The purpose of the text is to describe something.

The generic structure of the text:

1. Identification

A general statement introduces the subject of the description.

2. Description

A series of paragraphs describe the features of the subject.

Activity 6

Study the following formulation.

GRAMMAR ZONE

We use the simple present tense to talk about:

- Something that happens all the time or repeatedly (as habit)
e.g : I get up 6 o'clock every morning.
- Something that is true in general
e.g : The earth goes round the sun

The rules of Simple Present Tense:

A. Present Tense Verbal

I
You
We
They

He
She
It

+ V1 (e/es) + O *

E.g : I wake up early every morning.

*Verbs ending in "-o", "-sh", "-ch" and "-ss"
+ es

E.g : He goes to school on foot

* Verbs ending in consonant + y

Change y into (i) + es

E.g : She studies a lot

B. Present Tense Nominal

I + am

e.g : I am beautiful.

She
He
It

+ is

They
We
You

+ are

E.g : He is my brother

E.g : We are Junior High School students.

Activity 7

After studying the simple present tense, decide whether the statements are true or false. Circle the right answer.

1. She is live at Delima Street No 6, Jakarta. [T/F]
2. I am 14 years old. [T/F]
3. Seta and Danu goes to school by bicycle. [T/F]
4. My friend like writing a story. [T/F]
5. My father reads newspaper every morning. [T/F]

UNIT 2

Do you have an experience that you never forget? It can be an interesting or a terrible experience. Can you tell me what your unforgettable experience is?

PRE-WRITING

Study the following text.

Our trip to the Blue Mountain

On Friday we went to the Blue Mountains. We stayed at David and Della's house. It has a big garden with lots of colourful flowers and a tennis court.

On Saturday we saw the Three Sisters and went on the scenic railway. It was scary. Then, Mummy and I went shopping with Della. We went to some antique shops and I tried on some old hats. On Sunday we went on the Scenic Skyway and it rocked. We saw cockatoos having a shower.

In the afternoon we went home. That was very pleasant moment with my family that I ever got.

When you were young, did you have a favorite story? It can be a myth, fairy tale, or legend. Can you tell me your favorite story?

PRE-WRITING

Activity 1

Study the following text.

The Ant and the Grasshopper

One summer's day, Grasshopper was dancing, singing happily and playing his violin with all his heart. He saw Ant passing by, bearing along with great toil a wheatear to store for the winter.

"Come and sing with me instead of working so hard", said Grasshopper "Let's have fun together."

"I must store food for the winter", said Ant, "and I advise you to do the same."

"Don't worry about winter, it's still very far away", said Grasshopper, laughing at him. But Ant wouldn't listen and continued his toil.

When the winter came, the starving Grasshopper went to Ant's house and humbly begged for something to eat.

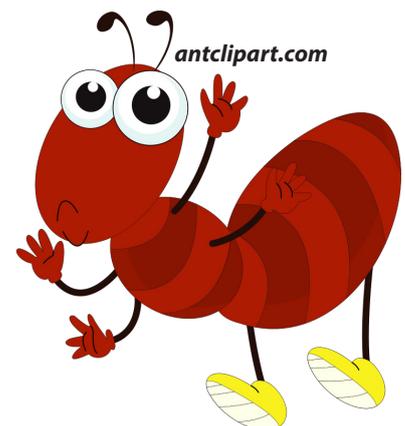

"If you had listened to my advice in the summer you would not now be in need," said Ant. "I'm afraid you will have to go to bed without supper." Then he closed the door.

Activity 4

Study the following information. Do you understand the information?

NARRATIVE TEXT

A narrative text is a text that tells a story on a pattern of events with a problematic and/or unexpected outcome. The purpose of the text is to entertain and educate the readers.

The generic structure of the text:

1. Orientation

It is about the opening paragraph where the participants and characters of the story are introduced.

2. Complication

A series of the problems in the story developed.

3. Resolution

The problems in the story is resolved.

Activity 5

To write a narrative text, we use the simple past tense and past continuous tense. You have already learnt simple past tense in Unit 2. Now, you will learn past continuous tense.

GRAMMAR ZONE

Past Continuous Tense

Past continuous tense is used to say that someone is in the middle of doing something at a certain time in the past.

I/He/She	was	} V-ing
We/They/You	were

e.g:

Grasshopper was dancing, singing happily and playing his violin with all his heart.

Activity 6

Write three sentences in the form of past continuous tense.

1.
2.
3.

Activity 7

Share your answer with your chairmate. She/he will help you to correct your work.

Activity 8

Study the following information

GRAMMAR ZONE

Sometimes, past continuous tense and simple past tense are used together to tell that something happened in the middle of something else.

1. Past continuous tense + when + Simple past tense
e.g : He was studying when I came to his house.
2. Simple past tense + while + Past continuous tense
e.g :I walked into my room while my father and my mother were watching television.

Activity 9
