ABSTRACT

AJENG WULANDARI: *The Effectiveness of Using Bilingual Card and Monolingual Card in Increasing the English Vocabulary of the Students of SDIT Nur Hidayah Surakarta. Thesis. Yogyakarta: Graduate School, Yogyakarta State University, 2019.

This research aims to reveal (1) whether the use of bilingual card as media is more effective than the use conventional media in increasing young learners' English vocabulary, (2) whether the use of monolingual card as a media is more effective than the use of conventional media in increasing young learners' English vocabulary, (3) whether the use of bilingual card as a media is more effective than the use of monolingual card in increasing young learners' English vocabulary, and (4) the most effective media among bilingual card, monolingual card, and conventional media in increasing students' English vocabulary.

This research is quasi-experimental research which involved two experimental groups and one control group. The sample is three classes of grade 3 students of Integrated Islamic Elementary School NurHidayah Surakarta. The variables of the research are monolingual and bilingual cards as the independent variable and English vocabulary mastery as the dependent variable. The data collection used a pre-test and post-test. The data analysis used the ANCOVA. The tests of normality and homogeneity were administered before the hypothesis testing.

The result of the research shows that (1) the bilingual card is more effective than conventional media in increasing young learners' English vocabulary, as shown by the result of LSD (Least Significant Difference) test with the mean difference of 0.061 and at the significance level of 0.000 which is lower than 0.05, (2) the monolingual card is more effective than conventional media in increasing young learners' English vocabulary, as shown by the result of LSD test with the mean difference of 0.132 and significant at 0.008 which is lower than 0.05, (3) there is no significant difference between the use of bilingual card and the use of monolingual card in increasing young learners' English vocabulary, as shown by the result of LSD test with the mean difference of 0.061 and significant at 0.213 which is higher than 0.05, (4) the most effective media in teaching vocabulary for young learners is bilingual card, as shown by LSD test with the mean difference of 0.76, which indicates a positive result.
